

WEIRD REPORT FROM PANAMA

Subterranean Lake Said To Have Been Discovered Near Site Of Proposed Locks At Gatun.

PRONOUNCED TO BE ABSOLUTE ROT

Rumor Comes From Colon By Way Of New Orleans, But Is Denied By The Head Of The Canal Officials And Washington Authorities.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
New Orleans, La., Nov. 7.—According to a letter received here from Colon, a subterranean lake has been discovered near Gatun, the proposed site of the locks for the Panama canal, which will seriously inconvenience the work.

The Report
The report that has been sent out is to the effect that directly under the spot where the government engineers had designed to place the big government locks evidence of a large lake under the surface has been located.

Means Delay
This, it is reported, will not only delay the work of construction of the big canal for several years, but will add to the cost by several million more dollars than had been estimated in the previous figures of both the government and civil engineers employed.

Six Miles from Colon
Gatun is located six miles from Colon and was to have been the first of the series of big locks that would empty the waters of the Atlantic into the Pacific and open water traffic across the isthmus.

Is Denied.
Washington, D. C., Nov. 7.—At the isthmian canal commission's office in this city the above dispatch is laughed at as absolutely absurd and without any official foundation.

Not Possible.
It is claimed that it would be impossible for such a lake to have existed and it has not been known to the engineers here.

Calls It "Rot."
New York, Nov. 7.—Col. Goethals, chairman of the isthmian canal commission, declared today the report of the discovery of a subterranean lake under the site of the canal locks is "absolute rot."

AMERICAN TOBACCO CO. IS DECLARED TO BE A TRUST

United States Federal Court Takes Official Action On The Case In Written Opinion Today.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
New York, Nov. 7.—The government's contention that the American Tobacco Company is a trust operating in restraint of trade and violating

TEN MEN INJURED IN AN EXPLOSION

Six Are Either Dead Or Fatally Hurt, Four Others Badly Injured When Boiler Explodes.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Superior, Wis., Nov. 7.—Six workmen were killed or fatally injured and four slightly hurt in a boiler explosion this afternoon at the Wisconsin Central roundhouse.

PICK COMPANION FOR HIS AFRICAN TRIPS

Roosevelt Has Decided Who Will Accompany Him to Africa's Desert Shores.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Los Angeles, Calif., Nov. 7.—Edmund Heller, Riverside, Calif., aged twenty-six years, a well known explorer of strange lands, has been selected by Roosevelt to accompany him into the wilds of Africa.

DEMOCRATS CLAIM A WHOLE CLEAN SWEEP

Say That Entire State Ticket Has Been Elected by the Democrats on Latest Count.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Columbus, Ohio, Nov. 7.—On the returns received during the night National Democratic Commission Chairman and State Chairman Finley claim the entire state democratic ticket has been elected.

Gazette's Great European Contest

TODAY'S LEADERS.

Who will lead tomorrow?

HIGH VOTE.

N. W. BUNKER.

FIRSTS.

MRS. ROBERT HOCKETT.

MRS. CHAS. KILMER.

DAVID B. GRIFFIN.

JOHN FISHER.

SECONDS.

MRS. E. R. WINSLOW.

MRS. U. G. MILLER.

W. T. FLAHERTY.

M. K. HAMBLETT.

SEE CONTEST ARTICLE ON PAGE SEVEN

The Next Great Problem To Be Solved—The Cabinet Question.

24TH EXHIBITION OF GOTHAM HORSE SHOW

Will Open Monday—Social Brilliance Expected To Suffer From Hard Times.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
New York, Nov. 7.—The twenty-fourth annual exhibition of the New York Horse Show Association, the event of the year for patrons of the horse in ring competition, and the first great public function of the season for fashionable society, will open Monday in Madison Square Garden.

SPECIAL TERM FOR STANDARD OIL CASE

United States Circuit Court to Try Case Against Oil Company of Indiana.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Jackson, Mich., Nov. 7.—A special term of the United States district court is to convene here Monday for the trial of the case against the Standard Oil Company of Indiana.

SPORTING NOTES.
Wisconsin Leads
Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 7.—The first half of the Wisconsin-Minnesota game ended with Wisconsin, 5; Minnesota, 0.

CHICAGO IS AFTER SOUTHERN BUSINESS

Delegation From Chicago Association of Commerce to Tour States In South.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Chicago, Ill., Nov. 7.—A delegation representing the Chicago Association of Commerce has arranged to leave this city tomorrow for a tour of the Southern states.

SUGAR DOWN 20 CENTS.

Big Reduction In Prices of All Refined Grades Is Announced at New York.

New York, Nov. 7.—All grades of refined sugar were reduced 20 cents a hundred pounds Friday.

RIDGEVILLE HUNTER SHOT IN SHOULDER

Herman Nott Wounded by Accidental Discharge of Rifle—No Bones Broken.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Milton, Nov. 6.—Herman Nott of Ridgeville, Ia. laid up with a wounded shoulder as the result of a hunting accident. Through the accidental discharge of his rifle the bullet entered the fleshy part of his right shoulder and came out along side the shoulder blade. The ball was of large caliber but no bones were broken.

NEWS FORECAST OF THE COMING WEEK

North Dakota Launching on Tuesday—Monetary Commission to Resume Sitings.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Washington, D. C., Nov. 7.—Many events of interest are on the calendar for the coming week to share public attention with the aftermath of election news.

At Cheyenne, Mont., will take place Tuesday the launching of the North Dakota, the first United States 20,000-ton, all-steel battleship of the Dreadnought type.

The formal opening of the social season in New York will be marked Monday night by two important events, the opening of the annual horse show in Madison Square Garden and the inauguration of the season of grand opera at the Manhattan Opera House.

Men of national prominence will speak at the unveiling Saturday of the Prison Ship Martyrs' Monument erected in Port Greene Park, Brooklyn.

The national monetary commission appointed at the last session of Congress to develop plans for currency legislation is to resume its sessions in Washington Tuesday.

The King's birthday and Thanksgiving day will be generally observed Monday throughout the Dominion of Canada.

The special grand military maneuvers of the Japanese army will begin Tuesday and last four days.

The proceedings will attract international attention owing to the present disturbed conditions in the Balkan peninsula.

Of more direct interest to American readers will be the elections in Cuba next Saturday for president and members of congress. It is quite generally predicted that Gen. Jose Miguel Gomez, who has been nominated by both factions of the liberal party, will be elected to the presidency.

Owing to the active participation of President Samuel Gompers in the recent national election considerable public interest will attach to the proceedings of the annual convention of the American Federation of Labor in Denver beginning Monday.

Other important conventions of the week will be those of the National Prison Association in Richmond, Va., the National Society for the Promotion of Industrial Education, in Atlanta; the Farmers' National Union in New Orleans; the National Grange, Patrons of Husbandry, in Washington; the national convention of the United Daughters of the Confederacy in Atlanta; and the Southern Cotton Association in Memphis.

EMPEROR SELECTS NEW AMBASSADOR

Count Johann Heinrich Von Bernstorff Chosen as Von Sternberg's Successor.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Berlin, Nov. 7.—Count Johann Heinrich Von Bernstorff has been selected by the Emperor to succeed the late Baron Speck Von Bernstorff ambassador to America.

MONUMENT TO EARLY HEROES OF COUNTRY

Commemorates Battle of Tippecanoe Ninety-seven Years Ago in Indiana.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Lafayette, Ind., Nov. 7.—Today, the ninety-seventh anniversary of the battle of Tippecanoe, saw the completion of all arrangements for the unveiling and dedication of the handsome monument erected on the battlefield in memory of the heroes of the conflict between Gen. William Henry Harrison and his men and the Indians under the Prophet.

Among the scheduled speakers at the dedication are Governor Hanly, Congressman E. D. Crumpacker, Senator Will R. Wood and Judge Richard P. Delfort.

The memorial consists of a handsome granite shaft ninety feet in height. The base is appropriately inscribed and in front stands a life-size statue of General Harrison.

MICHIGAN CANNOT REGAIN THE LANDS

Attorney General Says That Wisconsin Will Retain Them by Right of Holding Them for Years.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Madison, Wis., Nov. 7.—Attorney General Gilbert today declared Wisconsin could not be deprived of any territory up to the Michigan boundary as proposed by the revised constitution in the recent election.

Mr. Gilbert says Wisconsin has profited by errors of Sweeney, but had held the land so long as to bar Michigan from recovering the hundreds of thousands of acres involved.

BUYING ORDERS ARE FLOODING MARKETS

New York Stock Exchange Feels the Advance Agents of Prosperity Real Effects.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
New York, Nov. 7.—The flood of buying orders which had poured in on the brokers during the night, kept prices soaring on the stock exchange today. It brought scenes of activity on the floor, the likes of which had not been witnessed in many months.

AUSTRIAN CABINET RESIGNS IN A BODY

Word From Vienna Shows That Crisis Is on in the Empire Capital.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Vienna, Nov. 7.—It was officially announced this morning that the entire cabinet of Emperor Francis Joseph had tendered their resignation to the Emperor. The cause of the trouble has not been learned and is considered considerable conjecture in diplomatic circles.

TAFTS ARRIVED AT HOT SPRINGS TODAY

President-Elect and His Party Greeted at the Virginia Resort This Morning.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Hot Springs, Va., Nov. 7.—President-elect and Mrs. Taft arrived here this morning. Several hundred people were at the station and gave them a rousing welcome.

Second Vice President of the Union Pacific Dies From Heart Disease.
Chicago, Ill., Nov. 7.—William D. Cornish, New York, second vice president of the Union Pacific railroad company, was found dead in his bed at the Auditorium Annex today of heart disease.

SUPREME COURT JUSTICE ELIGIBLE FOR RETIREMENT

Associate Justice Rufus W. Peckham Reached Age Of Seventy Today.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Washington, D. C., Nov. 7.—Associate Justice Rufus W. Peckham reached his seventieth year today and consequently adds another to the list of members of the Supreme Court who are eligible to retirement. It is a pretty general rule among the members of the court to take advantage of the law which permits them to retire with full pay when they have reached the age of seventy, though in the case of a few members who have been blessed with robust health they have waived the rule and have continued to grace the woodcock for several years after they have reached the age of earned retirement.

At other times the exigencies of politics have caused them to hold on or retire, as the case may be, in the hope that their places may be filled with men of their own party.

Now that the complexion of the national administration has been settled for four years to come it would not be surprising if there should be some changes in the personnel of the supreme tribunal before many months have elapsed.

With Justice Peckham there are four members of the court who have passed the retiring age. These are Melville W. Fuller, Chief Justice, who is 75; John M. Harlan, associate justice, who is only three months the junior of the Chief Justice; David J. Brewer, associate justice, who will be 71 next June; and Justice Peckham, who was 70 years old today.

President Roosevelt is not likely to have an opportunity to name a member of the Supreme Court, but his successor, who will take office March 4 next, will in all probability have the naming of at least four members of the court to take the place of those now eligible to retire.

Chief Justice Fuller has already given nearly six years more to the arduous task of weighing every matter coming before the court than he would have had to give. He is a hale and hearty, well-preserved old man and bears his three score and fifteen years with grace.

Though for the time he is chief justice Mr. Fuller is compelled by his associates on the supreme bench as well as by his own good sense to keep out of politics he is yet a staunch democrat and among his friends it is an open secret that he has held on to his position during the past few years in the hope that President Roosevelt might be succeeded by a democrat and that as a consequence his own successor on the woodcock might be a man of like political faith.

Next to Chief Justice Fuller in point of years comes Justice Harlan. He is a man of large physique, and assembly as full of health as the best of men. But he has reached an age where most men seek rest from active affairs and his retirement before long is expected.

He has been an exceedingly active career. He comes from Virginia, via Kentucky, that is, his ancestors were Virginians. He is a republican and in 1875 he was the republican candidate for governor of Kentucky. He has been an associate justice of the Supreme Court since 1877.

Associate Justice David J. Brewer became eligible for retirement last year, having been born in Asia Minor in 1827, his father having been a missionary to Turkey. Whether he intends to avail himself of the privilege to retire in the near future is not known. He appears to be a man of excellent health. In politics he is a republican.

It is believed that Justice Peckham will probably avail himself of the opportunity to retire. During the past few years his health has not been of the best and more than a year ago it was rumored that he was likely to quit the bench. He took his seat in 1895, succeeding the late Howell E. Jackson of Tennessee. He is a democrat, but was never very active in politics. At the time of his appointment by President Cleveland he was a justice of the supreme court of appeals of New York. He is a native of Albany and had served as district attorney and corporation counsel of that city before he became a judge. He is likely to be succeeded by his associates on the supreme bench as well as by all others who know him.

RUSSIAN REFUGEE'S FEAR OF ASSASSINS

Greeted His Callers With Revolvers Ready For Instant Use.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 7.—Standing at his case before a small table in the center of his room, and with each hand lightly resting on a heavy revolver concealed in his trousers pockets, his attitude tense, alert and expectant, Count Alexander A. Lockwitzky received his first caller in Saint Paul, and after surveying himself of the identity of his caller laughed easily and entered into an animated conversation.

As his visitor left, he gracefully apologized and spoke of the fear of death with which he struggles day and night. His story of hidden menace in every casual move of persons near him unfolded a dramatic story.

"I am in disfavor with the czar," he said, "I am always prepared. When a man steps up to me and says, 'I have you,' I shall answer him 'Not yet!' and one of us will pass to another world."

"Twice recently I have escaped death from poison, and once as I stood by a window in my hotel at Los Angeles, an unseen assassin snatched the bullet which he had behind me. I am used to it now, but every man who speaks to me may be a death messenger, and cutting or drinking, awake or asleep, I am always prepared and always on my guard."

He laughed as he placed two heavy 45 caliber revolvers of Russian make on the table.

"These are about the only friends I can depend upon now," he said.

Count Lockwitzky reached St. Paul from the Pacific coast. In Russia he had large estates and enjoyed the favor of the court until he established free schools for peasant children at his ancestral home. Troubles immediately fell upon him. He was exiled to Saghallen but escaped and made his way to Vladivostok, from which port he was smuggled aboard a small steamer and made his way to Japan where for months he lay hid, and under the suspicion of the government that he was a Russian spy. As soon as he was able to travel he was invited to leave the country and made his way to the Pacific coast, later taking the lecture platform and joining the Russian exiles in the United States in their campaign to spread before the world a picture of true conditions in Russia. He has many American friends who are well connected and is in Saint Paul for the purpose of delivering lectures on the decline of the Russian empire and the weakness of Russian government before state institutions here. He comes from Saint Lake City where he last came into touch with the spies who are following him, and narrowly escaped death at the hands of a Russian who introduced himself as a former officer in the czar's army.

Count Lockwitzky now few people and at his hotel persons who express a desire to call upon him are rigidly scrutinized.

ITALIAN RUNNER IS COMING TO AMERICA

Man Who Was Helped Across Line at Marathon of Olympic Games May Run in New York.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
New York, Nov. 7.—The lovers of athletic sports in this city may soon be given an opportunity to witness a contest for supremacy between John J. Hayes, winner of the Marathon race in the Olympic games at London last July, and Dorando Petri, the Italian runner who finished first in the great race, but was disqualified because of being helped across the line.

Pat Powers, who is endeavoring to bring the two fast runners together, has received a cable dispatch stating that Dorando sails for New York today. If Hayes can arrange his theatrical engagements the race will probably be held the latter part of this month in Madison Square Garden. It will be over the same distance as the Marathon race, that is, 26 miles 385 yards.

If Hayes and Dorando meet it will be the real sporting sensation of the winter and undoubtedly will attract an enormous crowd. No athletic contest of modern times created such feeling as the finish of the Marathon race in London last summer. Dorando, who was leading by about four minutes, collapsed after entering the stadium. Half a mile or so before reaching the finish Dorando, it was said, received a drink of wine which caused his legs to give way under him. At any rate, he was in a frightful state and sprawled on the track, but the spectators in their excitement helped him to his feet and he managed to crawl across the line. A protest was lodged by the Americans and Hayes got the race. A special prize was presented to Dorando by her Majesty Queen Alexandra.

ELECTRIC ROAD HAS SERIOUS LOSS TODAY

Chicago-Milwaukee Electric R. R. Station at Mount Totally Destroyed by Fire.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Chicago, Nov. 7.—At 3:10 o'clock this morning the handsome new station of the Chicago & Milwaukee Electric R. R., located at the Mount cemetery was totally destroyed by fire involving a loss of $5,000 to the railroad company and $25,000 to Harry Olander who had a confectionery stand in the building. The whole loss was covered by insurance. The building was one of the handsomest on the line of the railroad.

BALLOON ASCENSION HAD TO BE DELAYED

High Wind Made It Impossible For Big Balloon to Start Today.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 7.—Certainly with an ascension today with the prevailing weather conditions would mean a drift far across the lake into Michigan and a night and perhaps longer in the wilderness of that district caused Major Hersey to postpone the trial trip of the new Milwaukee balloon. The balloon, which was set for today, the ascension will, probably take place on Monday.

MICHIGAN'S FORMER STATE TREASURER DIES SUDDENLY

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Grand Rapids, Mich., Nov. 7.—Former State Treasurer Daniel McCoy, a prominent lumberman, banker and capitalist, died of heart trouble today.

The ascension will, probably take place on Monday.

SUPPER AND BALL OF ST. PAUL'S SOCIETY

Annual Function of Catholic Society Will Be Given on Thanksgiving Evening.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Janesville, Nov. 6.—An important function of the season will be the third annual supper and ball to be given by the St. Paul's Catholic society in this city on Thanksgiving eve, Wednesday, Nov. 25. Those having the arrangements in charge are making extensive plans for this event, which never fails to draw a large crowd from all the neighboring cities. The supper will be served in Baker's hall, beginning at 5:30 and it is their intention to have a musical entertainment during this hour. The dance will be held in the gymnasium and Leary's orchestra of hotel will furnish the music. A dance supper will be served at 11:30. Those appointed on the reception committee are the following gentlemen and their wives: John Hendricks, Janesville; Dan Luby, Janesville; Joe Leary, Edgerton; James Croake, Albany; James McCarthy, Stoughton; George Nichols, Port; Andrew Graham, Brooklyn; John Murray, Dayton; Henry Evans, Attica; William Coate, Footville. Floor committee: Christy Ryan, Albia; Follans and Jerome Collins of Evansville; Mat Roberts, Edgerton; James Croake, Jr., Albany; Dan Drew, Footville; Will Durner, Broadhead; Jim Broughton, Magnolia.

The supper was received here today of the death of Mrs. Case, which occurred at her home in Brooklyn at one o'clock this morning. The funeral services will be held Sunday at 2 p. m. Mrs. Case was a sister of Mrs. Jennie Shorger, and George and Wm. Mages of this city.

Mrs. and Mrs. J. Wollake of Dodgeville are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Spratt for a few days.

Mrs. Mable Hook is here from Brooklyn to spend the day as guest of Miss Lou Howard.

Mrs. Harley Wall entertained a number of Janesville friends at her home in Union last evening. The majority of the company were the unmarried office employees of the Baker Mfg. Co.

A. J. Rosen of Eau Claire is a business visitor in this city.

Mrs. Joe Zwolonek is visiting in Madison this week, while her husband is in northern Wisconsin on a business trip.

Mrs. Lizzie Lehman returned yesterday from a visit to friends in Chicago. Miss Marie Hubb of Brooklyn is a guest of local friends today.

CRUSHED FOOT AND ANKLE IN SHREDDER

Harry Cox of the Town of Avon Was Victim of Painful Accident Yesterday—Foot Got Caught in Corn Shredder.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Broadhead, Nov. 7.—Harry Cox, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Cox of the town of Avon, had his right foot and ankle badly crushed yesterday by getting it caught in a corn shredder. It is hoped amputation will not be necessary. The students of the high school are planning to give an entertainment in the near future to raise money to purchase pictures and other articles for the various rooms. They promise something unique to the public.

The local W. C. T. U. are planning to hold a fair and chicken-pie dinner next Saturday, Nov. 14th. There will be many articles for sale which would make nice Christmas presents, besides home-made candies, etc.

State Evangelist for the Baptist Churches William L. Clapp began a series of special meetings in the Baptist church in this city on Thursday evening. Mr. Clapp is said to be a very convincing speaker and it is expected a large amount of good will result therefrom.

At their chicken-pie dinner and supper on election day the ladies of the Baptist society raised enough money to pay a deficit of over fifty dollars on a new piano recently purchased.

By Monday of next week Broadhead will be well represented in the woods of the north part of the state, several hunters having already left and more expected to go today and Sunday. Among those already gone are Wm. Kibbe and Art Knezel. Others who go are H. C. Putnam, C. E. Doolittle, Rex Doolittle, C. B. Atkinson, Harold Towne, and Otto Swygart, V. W. Plock and Dr. Davis.

Rev. E. P. Williams, pastor of the Baptist church, has been re-elected for another year.

Mrs. Chas. Zaecher and daughter went to Monroe Friday to visit friends.

Mrs. H. Atterton of Albany spent Friday in the city.

FACULTY CLUB MADE LICENSE AN ISSUE

Deposed the President Because He Secured a Government Permit to Sell Liquor in Club Room.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

Madison, Wis., Nov. 7.—The University of Wisconsin Club has deposed Prof. Howard L. Smith as president because he procured a federal liquor license for this well known club, after the club had voted against having the clubhouse bar. Dr. R. G. Thwaites was elected president. The deposing of the club tried to revoke the objectionable license, but found they could not do so under the federal laws, but the club liquor dispensary will be abandoned.

M. W. A. Notice. All members of Florence Camp 366, M. W. A., are requested to attend a smoker in connection with our regular meeting next Monday evening, Nov. 9th.

J. W. VAN BEYNUM, Clerk.

Pennsylvania at the Front. Pennsylvania leads in the state industry, with Vermont, Maine, Virginia, Maryland, New York, California, Arkansas and New Jersey following in the order named.

Badly Scalded! Lucile Bear, who lives with her parents on Center St., was badly scalded by falling into a pail of boiling hot water.

PROPOSE QUESTIONS FOR SCHOOL DEBATE

Three Questions Sent Out and Schools Asked to Choose One.

Three questions for debate have been sent out to the principals of the high schools in the Beloit College debating league, which is composed of four Illinois and four Wisconsin high schools. The question selected as first choice by Principal H. C. Howell and Prof. Rohr was one dealing with the proposed Lake-to-gulf deep waterway. The second choice was the proposition that the United States should build three battleships a year or their equivalent for three years. The question selected as third choice was that the duty on Canadian lumber should be at once removed. The question receiving most votes for first choice will be the one debated by the league.

The decision has not yet been announced.

Chas. Yates reported for work yesterday afternoon and went on the dispatch job.

Fireman R. K. Smith who relieved Yates is on the extra board.

Engineer Crowley relieved Engineer Townsend on the six o'clock engine last night.

Fireman Bier reported for work on 5:38 this morning.

Engineer Reed and Fireman Moyer are on the extra board.

Engine 177, the regular engine on number 514 took the second section of 5:01 to Chicago last night.

Engine 433 which has been used here for a switch engine went to the Chicago shops for repairs. Engineer James took it down.

Fireman Connors was sent up from Harvard today to work on an extra fireman on the extra board at the roundhouse.

Engineers Madison and Chasman and Engineer Koch and Dowling took engines 233 and 357 to Fond du Lac last night with an extra.

Engineer Miller and Fireman Wright took the second section of 5:01 to Chicago last night.

St. Paul Road. Engineer Schleker and Fireman Kennaugh went out on number 65 this morning.

Fireman Slebert who has been laying off for some time on account of an injured finger has resumed work and went on switch engine 845 today.

Engineer Doolittle and Fireman Royer took engine 1773 went out on number 124 today.

Engineer Wilkinson and Fireman Bates went out on number 31 today.

Engineer Doolittle and Fireman Royer took engine 1773 went out on number 124 today.

Engineer Wilkinson and Fireman Bates went out on number 31 today.

Engineer Doolittle and Fireman Royer took engine 1773 went out on number 124 today.

Engineer Wilkinson and Fireman Bates went out on number 31 today.

Engineer Doolittle and Fireman Royer took engine 1773 went out on number 124 today.

Engineer Wilkinson and Fireman Bates went out on number 31 today.

Engineer Doolittle and Fireman Royer took engine 1773 went out on number 124 today.

Engineer Wilkinson and Fireman Bates went out on number 31 today.

Engineer Doolittle and Fireman Royer took engine 1773 went out on number 124 today.

Engineer Wilkinson and Fireman Bates went out on number 31 today.

Engineer Doolittle and Fireman Royer took engine 1773 went out on number 124 today.

Engineer Wilkinson and Fireman Bates went out on number 31 today.

Engineer Doolittle and Fireman Royer took engine 1773 went out on number 124 today.

TWO BOXES OF FISH WERE CONFISCATED

On Express Car Between Ft. Atkinson and Janesville by Game Warden Drafiel—Carp Fishers Are Busy.

Two boxes labeled "poultry" and shipped from Ft. Atkinson by a mythical personage signing himself "Ch. Smith" to 1 Milwaukee avenue, Chicago, were confiscated on an express car between the Port and Janesville by Deputy Game Warden Peter Drafiel yesterday noon. The boxes were packed with fish and contained about 120 pounds of carp, a fine white bass, and a large pike. Four dollars and twenty-five cents for the state was realized in the sale of the confiscated game. While he has obtained no proof, the warden is convinced from the writing on the boxes that the shippers were the same parties who tried to "run the blockade" with several boxes of fish last winter.

Thought He Was Too Busy. Inasmuch as Mr. Drafiel was occupied in watching the carp hauls by Henry Nyloeker of Koshkonong, the individuals above referred to evidently thought that the time was prohibited to smuggle the goods into the state.

However, the warden's outfit completed their 40,000-pound haul yesterday morning after three days' work with their 1,200-yard seine. While retained by them as inspectors, Mr. Drafiel was not on duty for the state but he was keeping his weather eye open just the same.

Three Fishing Crews. After a long interim, the state has permitted carp-fishing to be resumed at Lake Koshkonong. The Nyloekers captured 40,000 pounds, as before stated, and nearly as many more got away from them. Ted Carroll and his crew and the Thompsons are also operating on the lake and meeting with good success.

After a long interim, the state has permitted carp-fishing to be resumed at Lake Koshkonong. The Nyloekers captured 40,000 pounds, as before stated, and nearly as many more got away from them. Ted Carroll and his crew and the Thompsons are also operating on the lake and meeting with good success.

After a long interim, the state has permitted carp-fishing to be resumed at Lake Koshkonong. The Nyloekers captured 40,000 pounds, as before stated, and nearly as many more got away from them. Ted Carroll and his crew and the Thompsons are also operating on the lake and meeting with good success.

After a long interim, the state has permitted carp-fishing to be resumed at Lake Koshkonong. The Nyloekers captured 40,000 pounds, as before stated, and nearly as many more got away from them. Ted Carroll and his crew and the Thompsons are also operating on the lake and meeting with good success.

After a long interim, the state has permitted carp-fishing to be resumed at Lake Koshkonong. The Nyloekers captured 40,000 pounds, as before stated, and nearly as many more got away from them. Ted Carroll and his crew and the Thompsons are also operating on the lake and meeting with good success.

After a long interim, the state has permitted carp-fishing to be resumed at Lake Koshkonong. The Nyloekers captured 40,000 pounds, as before stated, and nearly as many more got away from them. Ted Carroll and his crew and the Thompsons are also operating on the lake and meeting with good success.

After a long interim, the state has permitted carp-fishing to be resumed at Lake Koshkonong. The Nyloekers captured 40,000 pounds, as before stated, and nearly as many more got away from them. Ted Carroll and his crew and the Thompsons are also operating on the lake and meeting with good success.

After a long interim, the state has permitted carp-fishing to be resumed at Lake Koshkonong. The Nyloekers captured 40,000 pounds, as before stated, and nearly as many more got away from them. Ted Carroll and his crew and the Thompsons are also operating on the lake and meeting with good success.

After a long interim, the state has permitted carp-fishing to be resumed at Lake Koshkonong. The Nyloekers captured 40,000 pounds, as before stated, and nearly as many more got away from them. Ted Carroll and his crew and the Thompsons are also operating on the lake and meeting with good success.

After a long interim, the state has permitted carp-fishing to be resumed at Lake Koshkonong. The Nyloekers captured 40,000 pounds, as before stated, and nearly as many more got away from them. Ted Carroll and his crew and the Thompsons are also operating on the lake and meeting with good success.

After a long interim, the state has permitted carp-fishing to be resumed at Lake Koshkonong. The Nyloekers captured 40,000 pounds, as before stated, and nearly as many more got away from them. Ted Carroll and his crew and the Thompsons are also operating on the lake and meeting with good success.

After a long interim, the state has permitted carp-fishing to be resumed at Lake Koshkonong. The Nyloekers captured 40,000 pounds, as before stated, and nearly as many more got away from them. Ted Carroll and his crew and the Thompsons are also operating on the lake and meeting with good success.

After a long interim, the state has permitted carp-fishing to be resumed at Lake Koshkonong. The Nyloekers captured 40,000 pounds, as before stated, and nearly as many more got away from them. Ted Carroll and his crew and the Thompsons are also operating on the lake and meeting with good success.

After a long interim, the state has permitted carp-fishing to be resumed at Lake Koshkonong. The Nyloekers captured 40,000 pounds, as before stated, and nearly as many more got away from them. Ted Carroll and his crew and the Thompsons are also operating on the lake and meeting with good success.

After a long interim, the state has permitted carp-fishing to be resumed at Lake Koshkonong. The Nyloekers captured 40,000 pounds, as before stated, and nearly as many more got away from them. Ted Carroll and his crew and the Thompsons are also operating on the lake and meeting with good success.

After a long interim, the state has permitted carp-fishing to be resumed at Lake Koshkonong. The Nyloekers captured 40,000 pounds, as before stated, and nearly as many more got away from them. Ted Carroll and his crew and the Thompsons are also operating on the lake and meeting with good success.

After a long interim, the state has permitted carp-fishing to be resumed at Lake Koshkonong. The Nyloekers captured 40,000 pounds, as before stated, and nearly as many more got away from them. Ted Carroll and his crew and the Thompsons are also operating on the lake and meeting with good success.

After a long interim, the state has permitted carp-fishing to be resumed at Lake Koshkonong. The Nyloekers captured 40,000 pounds, as before stated, and nearly as many more got away from them. Ted Carroll and his crew and the Thompsons are also operating on the lake and meeting with good success.

After a long interim, the state has permitted carp-fishing to be resumed at Lake Koshkonong. The Nyloekers captured 40,000 pounds, as before stated, and nearly as many more got away from them. Ted Carroll and his crew and the Thompsons are also operating on the lake and meeting with good success.

After a long interim, the state has permitted carp-fishing to be resumed at Lake Koshkonong. The Nyloekers captured 40,000 pounds, as before stated, and nearly as many more got away from them. Ted Carroll and his crew and the Thompsons are also operating on the lake and meeting with good success.

After a long interim, the state has permitted carp-fishing to be resumed at Lake Koshkonong. The Nyloekers captured 40,000 pounds, as before stated, and nearly as many more got away from them. Ted Carroll and his crew and the Thompsons are also operating on the lake and meeting with good success.

After a long interim, the state has permitted carp-fishing to be resumed at Lake Koshkonong. The Nyloekers captured 40,000 pounds, as before stated, and nearly as many more got away from them. Ted Carroll and his crew and the Thompsons are also operating on the lake and meeting with good success.

After a long interim, the state has permitted carp-fishing to be resumed at Lake Koshkonong. The Nyloekers captured 40,000 pounds, as before stated, and nearly as many more got away from them. Ted Carroll and his crew and the Thompsons are also operating on the lake and meeting with good success.

After a long interim, the state has permitted carp-fishing to be resumed at Lake Koshkonong. The Nyloekers captured 40,000 pounds, as before stated, and nearly as many more got away from them. Ted Carroll and his crew and the Thompsons are also operating on the lake and meeting with good success.

After a long interim, the state has permitted carp-fishing to be resumed at Lake Koshkonong. The Nyloekers captured 40,000 pounds, as before stated, and nearly as many more got away from them. Ted Carroll and his crew and the Thompsons are also operating on the lake and meeting with good success.

After a long interim, the state has permitted carp-fishing to be resumed at Lake Koshkonong. The Nyloekers captured 40,000 pounds, as before stated, and nearly as many more got away from them. Ted Carroll and his crew and the Thompsons are also operating on the lake and meeting with good success.

EXTENSIBLE GAS BRACKET

Can Be Readily Raised or Lowered as Desired.

Every household in which gas or electricity is used as an illuminant would welcome the addition of the extensible fixture shown in the illustration below, invented by a Chicago man. In two minutes the gas brackets are raised or lowered to the ceiling and sufficient light does not reach a person who may be reading at the table. Imagine how immensely convenient this extensible bracket would be in such cases. When the light is desired only as a general illumination for the room it can be pushed upward close to the ceiling, so that the rays of light will extend over the entire room. But when it is desirable to bring the light close to a table, for instance, for reading or sewing, the light can be instantly pulled down to the exact position which is most convenient. This bracket is simply constructed of plated tubes, which readily collapse or expand as the light is raised or lowered.

RAISED AND LOWERED LIGHT.

When the light is desired only as a general illumination for the room it can be pushed upward close to the ceiling, so that the rays of light will extend over the entire room. But when it is desirable to bring the light close to a table, for instance, for reading or sewing, the light can be instantly pulled down to the exact position which is most convenient. This bracket is simply constructed of plated tubes, which readily collapse or expand as the light is raised or lowered.

When the light is desired only as a general illumination for the room it can be pushed upward close to the ceiling, so that the rays of light will extend over the entire room. But when it is desirable to bring the light close to a table, for instance, for reading or sewing, the light can be instantly pulled down to the exact position which is most convenient. This bracket is simply constructed of plated tubes, which readily collapse or expand as the light is raised or lowered.

When the light is desired only as a general illumination for the room it can be pushed upward close to the ceiling, so that the rays of light will extend over the entire room. But when it is desirable to bring the light close to a table, for instance, for reading or sewing, the light can be instantly pulled down to the exact position which is most convenient. This bracket is simply constructed of plated tubes, which readily collapse or expand as the light is raised or lowered.

When the light is desired only as a general illumination for the room it can be pushed upward close to the ceiling, so that the rays of light will extend over the entire room. But when it is desirable to bring the light close to a table, for instance, for reading or sewing, the light can be instantly pulled down to the exact position which is most convenient. This bracket is simply constructed of plated tubes, which readily collapse or expand as the light is raised or lowered.

When the light is desired only as a general illumination for the room it can be pushed upward close to the ceiling, so that the rays of light will extend over the entire room. But when it is desirable to bring the light close to a table, for instance, for reading or sewing, the light can be instantly pulled down to the exact position which is most convenient. This bracket is simply constructed of plated tubes, which readily collapse or expand as the light is raised or lowered.

When the light is desired only as a general illumination for the room it can be pushed upward close to the ceiling, so that the rays of light will extend over the entire room. But when it is desirable to bring the light close to a table, for instance, for reading or sewing, the light can be instantly pulled down to the exact position which is most convenient. This bracket is simply constructed of plated tubes, which readily collapse or expand as the light is raised or lowered.

When the light is desired only as a general illumination for the room it can be pushed upward close to the ceiling, so that the rays of light will extend over the entire room. But when it is desirable to bring the light close to a table, for instance, for reading or sewing, the light can be instantly pulled down to the exact position which is most convenient. This bracket is simply constructed of plated tubes, which readily collapse or expand as the light is raised or lowered.

When the light is desired only as a general illumination for the room it can be pushed upward close to the ceiling, so that the rays of light will extend over the entire room. But when it is desirable to bring the light close to a table, for instance, for reading or sewing, the light can be instantly pulled down to the exact position which is most convenient. This bracket is simply constructed of plated tubes, which readily collapse or expand as the light is raised or lowered.

When the light is desired only as a general illumination for the room it can be pushed upward close to the ceiling, so that the rays of light will extend over the entire room. But when it is desirable to bring the light close to a table, for instance, for reading or sewing, the light can be instantly pulled down to the exact position which is most convenient. This bracket is simply constructed of plated tubes, which readily collapse or expand as the light is raised or lowered.

When the light is desired only as a general illumination for the room it can be pushed upward close to the ceiling, so that the rays of light will extend over the entire room. But when it is desirable to bring the light close to a table, for instance, for reading or sewing, the light can be instantly pulled down to the exact position which is most convenient. This bracket is simply constructed of plated tubes, which readily collapse or expand as the light is raised or lowered.

When the light is desired only as a general illumination for the room it can be pushed upward close to the ceiling, so that the rays of light will extend over the entire room. But when it is desirable to bring the light close to a table, for instance, for reading or sewing, the light can be instantly pulled down to the exact position which is most convenient. This bracket is simply constructed of plated tubes, which readily collapse or expand as the light is raised or lowered.

When the light is desired only as a general illumination for the room it can be pushed upward close to the ceiling, so that the rays of light will extend over the entire room. But when it is desirable to bring the light close to a table, for instance, for reading or sewing, the light can be instantly pulled down to the exact position which is most convenient. This bracket is simply constructed of plated tubes, which readily collapse or expand as the light is raised or lowered.

When the light is desired only as a general illumination for the room it can be pushed upward close to the ceiling, so that the rays of light will extend over the entire room. But when it is desirable to bring the light close to a table, for instance, for reading or sewing, the light can be instantly pulled down to the exact position which is most convenient. This bracket is simply constructed of plated tubes, which readily collapse or expand as the light is raised or lowered.

When the light is desired only as a general illumination for the room it can be pushed upward close to the ceiling, so that the rays of light will extend over the entire room. But when it is desirable to bring the light close to a table, for instance, for reading or sewing, the light can be instantly pulled down to the exact position which is most convenient. This bracket is simply constructed of plated tubes, which readily collapse or expand as the light is raised or lowered.

When the light is desired only as a general illumination for the room it can be pushed upward close to the ceiling, so that the rays of light will extend over the entire room. But when it is desirable to bring the light close to a table, for instance, for reading or sewing, the light can be instantly pulled down to the exact position which is most convenient. This bracket is simply constructed of plated tubes, which readily collapse or expand as the light is raised or lowered.

When the light is desired only as a general illumination for the room it can be pushed upward close to the ceiling, so that the rays of light will extend over the entire room. But when it is desirable to bring the light close to a table, for instance, for reading or sewing, the light can be instantly pulled down to the exact position which is most convenient. This bracket is simply constructed of plated tubes, which readily collapse or expand as the light is raised or lowered.

When the light is desired only as a general illumination for the room it can be pushed upward close to the ceiling, so that the rays of light will extend over the entire room. But when it is desirable to bring the light close to a table, for instance, for reading or sewing, the light can be instantly pulled down to the exact position which is most convenient. This bracket is simply constructed of plated tubes, which readily collapse or expand as the light is raised or lowered.

When the light is desired only as a general illumination for the room it can be pushed upward close to the ceiling, so that the rays of light will extend over the entire room. But when it is desirable to bring the light close to a table, for instance, for reading or sewing, the light can be instantly pulled down to the exact position which is most convenient. This bracket is simply constructed of plated tubes, which readily collapse or expand as the light is raised or lowered.

When the light is desired only as a general illumination for the room it can be pushed upward close to the ceiling, so that the rays of light will extend over the entire room. But when it is desirable to bring the light close to a table, for instance, for reading or sewing, the light can be instantly pulled down to the exact position which is most convenient. This bracket is simply constructed of plated tubes, which readily collapse or expand as the light is raised or lowered.

When the light is desired only as a general illumination for the room it can be pushed upward close to the ceiling, so that the rays of light will extend over the entire room. But when it is desirable to bring the light close to a table, for instance, for reading or sewing, the light can be instantly pulled down to the exact position which is most convenient. This bracket is simply constructed of plated tubes, which readily collapse or expand as the light is raised or lowered.

When the light is desired only as a general illumination for the room it can be pushed upward close to the ceiling, so that the rays of light will extend over the entire room. But when it is desirable to bring the light close to a table, for instance, for reading or sewing, the light can be instantly pulled down to the exact position which is most convenient. This bracket is simply constructed of plated tubes, which readily collapse or expand as the light is raised or lowered.

When the light is desired only as a general illumination for the room it can be pushed upward close to the ceiling, so that the rays of light will extend over the entire room. But when it is desirable to bring the light close to a table, for instance, for reading or sewing, the light can be instantly pulled down to the exact position which is most convenient. This bracket is simply constructed of plated tubes, which readily collapse or expand as the light is raised or lowered.

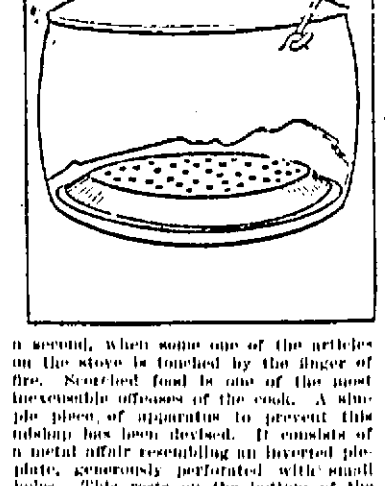

When the light is desired only as a general illumination for the room it can be pushed upward close to the ceiling, so that the rays of light will extend over the entire room. But when it is desirable to bring the light close to a table, for instance, for reading or sewing, the light can be instantly pulled down to the exact position which is most convenient. This bracket is simply constructed of plated tubes, which readily collapse or expand as the light is raised or lowered.

When the light is desired only as a general illumination for the room it can be pushed upward close to the ceiling, so that the rays of light will extend over the entire room. But when it is desirable to bring the light close to a table, for instance, for reading or sewing, the light can be instantly pulled down to the exact position which is most convenient. This bracket is simply constructed of plated tubes, which readily collapse or expand as the light is raised or lowered.

FIRE WILL NOT SCORCH

Simple Culinary Apparatus to Prevent Food From Burning.

The most careful of cooks with the many different claims in the course of preparation under her eyes will slip up occasionally and relax her vigilance for

THE $860 GIRL

When the light is desired only as a general illumination for the room it can be pushed upward close to the ceiling, so that the rays of light will extend over the entire room. But when it is desirable to bring the light close to a table, for instance, for reading or sewing, the light can be instantly pulled down to the exact position which is most convenient. This bracket is simply constructed of plated tubes, which readily collapse or expand as the light is raised or lowered.

When the light is desired only as a general illumination for the room it can be pushed upward close to the ceiling, so that the rays of light will extend over the entire room. But when it is desirable to bring the light close to a table, for instance, for reading or sewing, the light can be instantly pulled down to the exact position which is most convenient. This bracket is simply constructed of plated tubes, which readily collapse or expand as the light is raised or lowered.

When the light is desired only as a general illumination for the room it can be pushed upward close to the ceiling, so that the rays of light will extend over the entire room. But when it is desirable to bring the light close to a table, for instance, for reading or sewing, the light can be instantly pulled down to the exact position which is most convenient. This bracket is simply constructed of plated tubes, which readily collapse or expand as the light is raised or lowered.

When the light is desired only as a general illumination for the room it can be pushed upward close to the ceiling, so that the rays of light will extend over the entire room. But when it is desirable to bring the light close to a table, for instance, for reading or sewing, the light can be instantly pulled down to the exact position which is most convenient. This bracket is simply constructed of plated tubes, which readily collapse or expand as the light is raised or lowered.

When the light is desired only as a general illumination for the room it can be pushed upward close to the ceiling, so that the rays of light will extend over the entire room. But when it is desirable to bring the light close to a table, for instance, for reading or sewing, the light can be instantly pulled down to the exact position which is most convenient. This bracket is simply constructed of plated tubes, which readily collapse or expand as the light is raised or lowered.

When the light is desired only as a general illumination for the room it can be pushed upward close to the ceiling, so that the rays of light will extend over the entire room. But when it is desirable to bring the light close to a table, for instance, for reading or sewing, the light can be instantly pulled down to the exact position which is most convenient. This bracket is simply constructed of plated tubes, which readily collapse or expand as the light is raised or lowered.

When the light is desired only as a general illumination for the room it can be pushed upward close to the ceiling, so that the rays of light will extend over the entire room. But when it is desirable to bring the light close to a table, for instance, for reading or sewing, the light can be instantly pulled down to the exact position which is most convenient. This bracket is simply constructed of plated tubes, which readily collapse or expand as the light is raised or lowered.

When the light is desired only as a general illumination for the room it can

ROOSEVELT MAY SUCCEED PLATT

TALK OF HIS ELECTION TO THE UNITED STATES SENATE.

REVIVAL OF FORMER PLAN

President Said to Have Intimated
That He Would Accept Toga If Taft Were in White House.

Washington, Nov. 7.—President Roosevelt may be the successor of Senator Platt in the senate after he returns from his hunting trip in Africa.

Those who regard this as possible declare that they have assurance from the president himself that he would not be averse to the acceptance of the senatorial office under conditions as they will be after March 4. So far as is known he has not expressed himself on the subject recently, but he has said within a year that, with Mr. Taft as president, he would not feel the same hesitancy about entering the senate as he would feel with some one in the White House with whom his relations were not as intimate as they are with Mr. Taft.

Attitude to Successor Delicate.
His general attitude has been adverse to entering the senate because he has felt that as a member of that body he would be called upon to criticize his successor in the presidency, and this he would feel a delicacy about doing. He has said, however, that, knowing Mr. Taft as he does know him, and agreeing with him in all essentials as he does, he is confident that there would not be any occasion for antagonism. He has not gone to the extent at any time of indicating that he would desire the office even with Taft as president, but merely has said that with him in that position his chief reason for not desiring the senatorial position would disappear.

May Solve Senatorial Situation.
Even this much has not been said since there has been any certainty of Mr. Taft's entering the White House, but the president's outline of his attitude is now recalled as offering a possible solution of the senatorial entanglement in New York and as making an opening for the continuance of Mr. Roosevelt's public career.

It is even suggested that the absence of the president on his proposed African hunting expedition need not necessarily stand in the way of his election, but rather that such absence might relieve the situation of embarrassment to him in case his friends should desire to press his name.

INSURANCE MAN ARRESTED.

C. W. Bibb Accused of Land Fraud in Iowa.

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 7.—C. W. Bibb, head of the Bibb Insurance Company, with offices in the Guaranty Loan building, this city, was arrested Friday by Deputy Sheriff Johnson of Des Moines, Ia., and Detective Passolt of this city, on a charge of conspiracy preferred by Des Moines authorities.

According to the Des Moines officer, Bibb was said to be concerned in land frauds in Iowa which netted him in the neighborhood of $25,000 profits.

Injuries Kill Football Player.

Charlotte, N. C., Nov. 7.—John Cooper, a student at the University of North Carolina, and a member of the varsity football eleven, who was injured during the preliminary practice of the team in September while tackling a dummy, died at Clinton, Cooper suffered an injury to his spinal cord, which brought about paralysis.

To Sell Cedar Rapids Ball Team.

Cedar Rapids, Ia., Nov. 7.—The stockholders of the Cedar Rapids baseball club Friday night voted to sell the team on account of poor attendance last season.

To Hang for Assaulting Girl.

Charlotte, N. C., Nov. 7.—Will Graham, a negro, on trial for assault on Miss Pearl Tucker, a 16-year-old white girl, confessed Friday and was sentenced to hang December 18.

SWINDLERS ARE SENTENCED.

Nicollet Creamery Company Men Convicted at Minneapolis.

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 7.—James T. Mulhall was sentenced to 15 months at the federal prison at Leavenworth, Kan.; Edgar McConkey to one year and one day at Leavenworth, and Felix Nathanson to six months in the county jail by Judge Milton Purdy Friday.

After nearly six hours' deliberation, the federal jury Thursday night returned a verdict of guilty against the three men, charged with conspiracy to defraud by the use of the mails. Alleged fraudulent operation of the Nicollet Creamery Company in Minneapolis last fall was the specific charge in the indictment upon which the men were convicted. Farmers throughout the northwest are said to have lost heavily by shipping produce which was never paid for.

Three Persons Asphyxiated.

Washington, Nov. 7.—Overcome by the fumes of a gas of unknown origin, three persons of the family of Clarence L. Bromerman, a stenographer in the library of congress, were asphyxiated in their home, 1309 First street, N. W., this city, Friday. The dead are Mrs. Hilda Cutha Bromerman, 31 years old; Cutha Bromerman, 18 months old, her son, and Mrs. Helen Catherine Bromerman, 55 years old, her mother-in-law.

Buy it in Janesville.

TO TRY TO BAR POLITICS

COMPERS' OPPONENTS READY FOR ACTIVITY AT DENVER.

Attack on His Policy Will Be a Feature of Federation of Labor Convention.

Denver, Col., Nov. 7.—Politics will furnish the principal topics of discussion at the twenty-eighth annual convention of the American Federation of Labor, which opens here Monday. It is expected by local union labor leaders that the federation, with its 2,000,000 members and more than 1,000,000 voters, will adopt a permanent policy, through an amendment to its constitution.

There will be vigorous opposition from the beginning to the action binding the federation to any political policy, and an effort probably will be made to bind the organization to keep entirely out of politics, both local and national, in the future.

The matter will be brought up soon after the convention assembles in the form of resolutions both approving and condemning the action of President Compers and the members of the executive board in supporting the Democratic ticket in the last campaign. These resolutions will be referred to the committee on resolutions and will not be generally discussed until near the end of the meeting.

The fight against politics in the organization probably will be led by Socialist members, who have always opposed the introduction of political questions into the federation. They will be backed by a number of Republicans who have opposed the action of the federation leaders in the present campaign and by many delegates who consider the recent campaign sufficient proof that the federation can accomplish nothing in national politics. It is not thought, however, by those who have kept closely informed on labor matters that the opposition will be strong enough to prevent the convention from deciding on a vigorous political policy.

BLOODY TRIPLE TRAGEDY.

Pennsylvania Man Kills Woman, Child and Himself.

East Pittsburg, Pa., Nov. 7.—His wife, lying on a bed, her throat cut from ear to ear, his six-year-old adopted daughter on the floor near by with her head almost severed; a razor dripping with blood, on the bed beside the dead woman, and great crimson splashes on the floor and bed clothing was the ghastly sight which confronted William Casey when he returned to his home in East Meigsport early Saturday. The scene of the tragedy was a room occupied by George Hartzell, Casey's son-in-law, whose wife was mysteriously killed a year ago, and who has been boarding recently at the Casey home. Hartzell was found unconscious in a trunk near the bodies, a chloroform bottle at his nostrils, and died in a short time. Circumstances point to Hartzell as a murderer and suicide. He was under suspicion when his wife was found dead, but for lack of evidence was discharged.

SEVEN PERISH IN FLAMES.

Two Women and Five Children Killed in Manitoba.

Swan Lake, Man., Nov. 7.—The home of E. W. Carey, a farmer living a few miles south of here, was destroyed by fire Friday and Mrs. Carey, five children and a Miss Gillespie, a young school teacher who was staying over night with the family, perished in the flames. Mr. Carey was so badly injured that he cannot recover. The fire was caused by Carey's lighting the kitchen stove with coal oil. The other occupants of the house, who were asleep, were suffocated in their beds.

Many Women Hunters in New York.

Albany, N. Y., Nov. 7.—Scores of women throughout the state have taken out applications for hunting licenses, according to reports made to the state forest, fish and game commission. Licenses were issued Friday to a party including Harriette Schwind, Miss Cora de Loris and Miss Anna M. Derrnold, who are going on a hunting trip in the Adirondacks.

Abruzzi Annoyed by Gossip.

Rome, Nov. 7.—The duke of the Abruzzi, annoyed by the discussion of his reported engagement to Miss Katherine Eldins in both the American and Italian press, speaking to his aide Friday said that facts soon would set short the gossip. The duke's valet has been ordered to make preparations for a journey.

Ellis at Work in Washington.

Washington, Nov. 7.—Wade H. Ellis, who recently resigned as attorney general of Ohio to accept the position of assistant to the attorney general in the department of justice, arrived Friday from Columbus, O., took the oath of office and immediately entered upon his duties.

Kentucky Town Is in Danger.

Mayfield, Ky., Nov. 7.—Miles of creek bottom lands near Donx, north of here, are on fire and a large posse of citizens is fighting to keep the flames from entering that town, which has a population of over 300 persons.

Eight Injured in a Wreck.

Huntington, Pa., Nov. 7.—Eight persons were injured Friday when a Huntington & Broad Top passenger train ran through an open switch and crashed into a string of cars on a siding near Saxton.

Philosophy of Plautus.

Plautus: It is better to gain wisdom from others' woes than that others should learn from us.

COULDN'T TEAR HIMSELF AWAY.

Really Excellent Reason for Reportorial Perseverance.

Once a reporter went around to a certain residence in New York to get details about the master of the house, who had just died, in order that an obituary notice might appear in the newspaper which he represented. Such details, as a rule, are easy to get, as few people have objections to giving them out for publication. The reporter, therefore, was intensely surprised when the widow of the deceased, with scarcely a word, slammed the door in his face.

She retired into the house. Presently the doorbell rang furiously. She refused to stir. Again the doorbell rang, more furiously than before. Still the lady of the house would not stir.

"I had told him that I don't want to say anything about my husband," she thought to herself, "and he has no right to be so persistent."

So she sat still, while the doorbell rang again and again and again.

At last she could stand it no longer. So, opening a window over the front door, she poked her head out and remarked, severely:

"Young man, I do not desire to say anything to you. Kindly do not disturb me any more. Go away, young man."

"I can't!" roared the reporter, beside himself with exasperation. "You've shut my coat tails in the door!"

VALUE OF THE PRECIOUS STONES

Price Put Upon Them Can Be Nothing But Artificial.

The London Chronicle says that diamonds are getting on the public nerve with the cutting of the great Cullinan. They have split it, and are making two stones of it, and when all is done, it seems that we must calculate the value in carats. It is a matter of so much a carat. And the Cullinan stone at its biggest will be worth less than four million pounds, while its little brother will be only half as valuable. And this is nothing to the "Arganara," which weighs 1,650 carats in its present state, and is worth, according to the expert, more than £55,000,000. This is—we may say it bluntly—not true. You cannot eat a diamond, or drink it, or sleep in it, or make any use of it but to win a woman's smile. As a solemn fact of economy, it may be asserted that there is no man on earth who would give £55,000,000 for a diamond. Because there is no man on earth that will buy a thing at the price he cannot sell it at. Now, is there a man who will buy a diamond for fifty-eight millions on the chance of another man's wanting another woman's smile?—The Argonaut.

A Little Chaw.

One of our ablest industrial captains is always crowing the end, as they say in ordinary slang; yet so far as he is concerned, in reality. Lots of financiers chew gum, but this one in particular who never tasted chicle or rubber-elastic, as the boys call it, chews a bit of blitting. "Blitting" is a hunk of South American bull-beef (the rump) dried in the sun. It is as tough as rawhide, and will make a man who can digest it as strong as a bull team. Our industrial captain always carries a small shaving in his vest pocket, and when getting into a hard deal he takes a bite. It is just about as good as a piece of vulcanite hide, or the sole of an old shoe, but "it makes spit," and saliva is the soul of good digestion.

Wrecking the Typewriter.

"We sold one of our machines to Mrs. Van Consoaler for her boy," said the typewriter man when he had fixed the machine so it would write: "The quick brown fox jumps over the lazy dog," all right. "He was ten years old. It was Christmas time. She bought it for one of his Christmas presents. It cost her a hundred dollars." Two days after Christmas she phoned me to come up and see about the machine. I wish you could have seen it. The boy had taken it all to pieces. He hadn't left two little pieces of it together any more. He had it in a soap box. It was the worst wreck of a machine you ever saw. It took me two days to put it together again. I have great hopes for that boy."

Machine-Cured Sleeplessness.

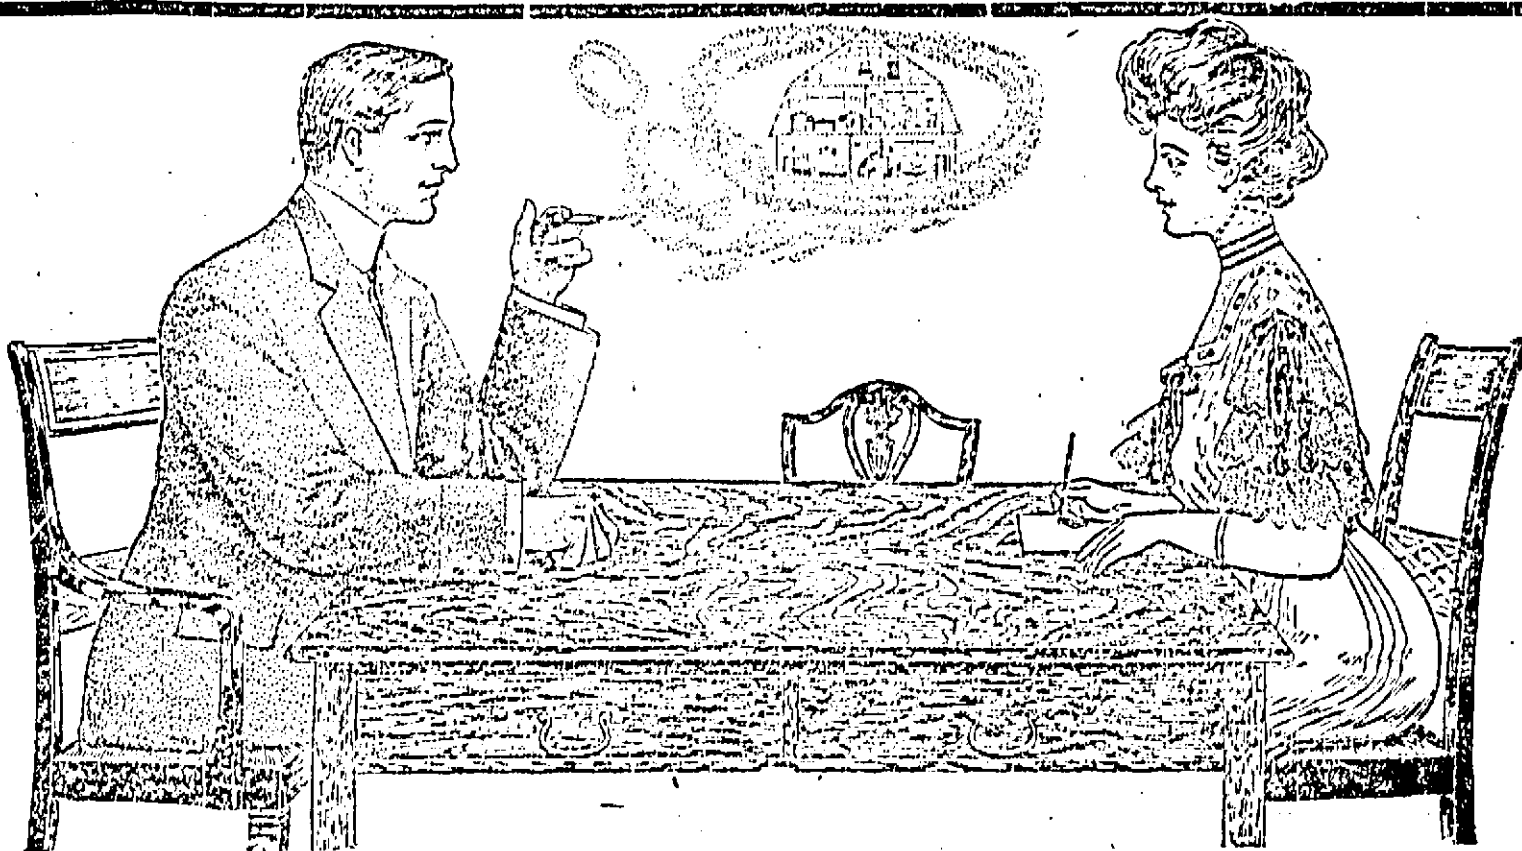

A unique machine has just been put on the market which claims to cure sleeplessness. The machine resembles an instrument like an electric fan, the wings of the fan being studded with small round mirrors. It is based on the principle that most insanities can sleep at the window of an express train. The sight of the landscape rushing by then invariably brings on a refreshing nap. The machine with its wild and glitter of revolving mirrors acts on the eye and brain in the same nothing manner and sends the patient off into a deep slumber.

On Being Mean.

The question arises, can one be economical without being mean? A man who is naturally mean will always be economical. If a man who is not economical attempts to become so he will learn that the easiest way is first to learn to be mean. If he has a generous impulse he must curb it. During the first part of our lives we should be as mean as we can. When we have accumulated more than we need we should devote the last part to cultivating our generous impulses. No successful man is a philanthropist before he is 50.—Life.

Decit Always Harmful.

There is no playing fast and loose with truth in any game without growing the worse for it.—Dickens.

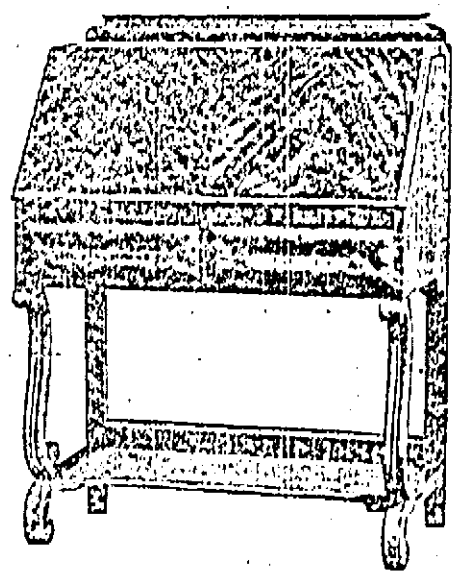

They say election is all over, Mary, with the exception of the shouting, and that

PUTNAM IS GOING TO DO THE SHOUTING

$800.00 Stock of House Desks

For Sale at About

50c ON THE DOLLAR

THE PUTNAM FURNITURE DEPARTMENT inaugurates its most wonderful sale of REAL BARGAINS in fine, costly and exclusive designs in House Desks, in Cuban mahogany and white quartered sawed oak. They are suitable for library, den or living room. Never before has a sale of this high grade furniture occurred in Janesville. I shall offer the entire lot of Desks of the finest quality and construction at prices in several instances less than actual cost of manufacture.

WE BOUGHT THEM RIGHT

The desks on sale are positively the greatest value ever offered. They comprise the entire product of one of the most reputable and prominent manufacturers of house desks in this country. Every desk will be disposed of at far below regular price, irrespective of its actual value. It's a lifetime opportunity. Most of the desks below come in either mahogany or quartered sawed white oak,—highly polished, elegantly carved and beautifully finished. They were made for the best retail furniture stores in this country and will be closed out in several cases at prices that do not represent the actual cost of production.

LOT 331--Desk is 31 inches wide, 43 inches high, highly polished white quartered sawed oak, inside finish of oak, with two small drawers; made to sell for $14.00; $9.50 sale price.

LOT 336--Golden oak, 36 inches wide, 44 inches high, has three drawers; beautifully carved French legs, made to sell for $24.00. (Note size of this desk) $15.00 Sale price.

LOT 336½--Made of Cuban mahogany, 36 inches wide, 44 inches high; three outside and three inside drawers; French legs beautifully carved—positively the best bargain ever offered in a desk; made to sell for $25.00. (Note size of this desk.) $15.00 Sale price.

LOT 332--Golden oak desk, 36 inch wide, 43 inches high, worth $24.00. $15.00 Sale price.

LOT 337½--Made of Cuban mahogany, 38 inches wide, 44 inches high; has four outside and three inside drawers; elegantly carved and finished; made to sell for $30.00. Sale price $19.00 Note size and quality of this desk; you will never get another chance like it.

We know a bargain when we see it. That is the reason the stock passed into our hands, and we propose to give the people of this section the benefit. Don't forget that the Holidays are near at hand and the above desks would make the most desirable gifts. Quick action is advised.

P. S.—No orders accepted from furniture dealers. Mail orders given prompt attention.

C. S. PUTNAM

Crockery, Glassware and Furniture . Janesville, Wis.

The Janesville Gazette

ENTERED AT THE POSTOFFICE AT JANESVILLE, WISCONSIN, AS SECOND CLASS MAIL MATTER.

MEMBER OF ASSOCIATED PRESS

BUSINESS OFFICE OPEN SATURDAY EVENINGS.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.

Daily Edition—By Carrier.
One Month $1.00
One Year $10.00
One Year, cash in advance $9.00
Six Months, cash in advance $5.00
Daily Edition—By Mail.
One Year $10.00
Six Months $5.00
Three Months $3.00
One Month $1.00

CASH IN ADVANCE.
One Year $10.00
Six Months $5.00
Three Months $3.00
One Month $1.00
Editorial Rooms $7.50
Business Office $7.50
Job Room $7.50

GAZETTE OCTOBER CIRCULATION.

Sworn circulation statement of the Daily and Semi-Weekly Gazette for October, 1908.

DAILY.
1..... 4549/17..... 4538
2..... 4541/18..... Sunday
3..... 4542/19..... 4547
4..... Sunday/20..... 4547
5..... 4543/21..... 4550
6..... 4544/22..... 4575
7..... 4545/23..... 4574
8..... 4546/24..... 4578
9..... 4547/25..... Sunday
10..... 4548/26..... 4622
11..... Sunday/27..... 4612
12..... 4549/28..... 4627
13..... 4550/29..... 4629
14..... 4551/30..... 4636
15..... 4552/31..... 4637
16..... 4553/1..... 4548

Total..... 125,502
Total divided by 27, total number of issues, 4638 Daily average.

SEMI-WEEKLY.
3..... 1885/31..... 1847
7..... 1870/24..... 1847
10..... 1875/28..... 1828
14..... 1875/31..... 1834
17..... 1879

Total..... 16,740
16740 divided by 2, total number of issues, 1847 Semi-Weekly average.

This is a correct report of the circulation of the Janesville Daily and Semi-Weekly Gazette for October, 1908, and represents the actual number of papers printed and circulated.

H. H. HARRIS.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 2nd day of November, 1908.

GRACE P. MILLER.

(Seal) Notary Public.

My commission expires July 14, 1909.

WISCONSIN WEATHER FORECAST

Partly cloudy and probably showers tonight or Sunday, warmer tonight.

OUR SATURDAY NIGHT

The aftermath of a national campaign is food for reflection, as it reflects light on many questions peculiar to a republican form of government and of interest to the American people.

When the wires were flashing messages so rapidly, the other night, the interested audience which filled the street represented but one of many thousands of similar audiences, scattered over the country from Maine to California, all intent on reading the same messages sent out simultaneously to the people of the land.

This wonderful news service is but incidental in importance to the news itself, and to the patient good nature of the people who created it. In every hamlet and cross-roads, as well as in every town and city, the white ballot had been talking for the individual voter.

For weeks men had been interested in discussing issues and policies, while candidates were busy in working for their own interests, and the party represented.

Aside from the two great parties, a small contingency of socialists, independents and prohibitionists were contending for principles which they regarded vital, with no hope of success, yet loyal to the cause espoused.

Bryan, with his strange personality and genial good nature, was cheered and worshipped by great crowds, wherever he appeared, while Taft was enthusiastically received.

The people everywhere were intent in supporting favorite candidates and parties, but when the campaign closed they came together to hear results, and turned away satisfied, for majorities rule, and minorities yield gracefully.

This is typical of America, the best governed because the least governed nation in the world, and speaks volumes for the intelligence and loyalty of the people.

No sullenness in tents, no plots or disturbances because of disappointed ambition, simply the brass band and the march procession which escorts the wheelbarrow containing the victim of an election bet, and the campaign with all its bitterness is forgotten.

When the President with characteristic bluntness said, at 8 o'clock last Tuesday night, "We've got them beat to a frazzle," the vanquished host referred to represented an army of several million voters, who were standing under the sting of disappointment.

More than this the crisp, sharp sentences took to the party and its great organization where defeat, mount blighted hopes and blighted ambitions to leaders and aspiring statesmen.

Dispatches from Lincoln, Nebraska, said that Bryan retired early, and this was true of the great party which he led to defeat for there was more comfort in retirement than in watching results.

But the campaign is over and practically forgotten. Business, which is always more or less disturbed during a national contest, has resumed with unusual activity, and party lines are ignored and forgotten.

The rule of the majority is always a safe rule and only possible in a republican form of government through party organization. When this is destroyed and men are induced to vote for the best men regardless of party the welfare of the nation is close to the danger line, for good men are to be found in all parties, as well as outside the pale of party organization.

If a dozen factions are contending for supremacy, prompted by the single ambition of supporting what they deem to be simply the best men, results would be minority rule and chaos and dissatisfaction would speedily follow.

Under present conditions all minor factions, including the great minority represented by the democratic party, submit gracefully to the edict of the majority and harmony prevails. Someone has said:

"Mr. Bryan is more attractive as a candidate in defeat than as a candidate in pursuit of victory. Mr. Bryan's message of congratulation to Taft is in good taste, while his little address in Lincoln Wednesday night was a perfect exhibition of good temper and good feeling."

"I am sure," he said, "that in private life, I can have the chance to do something. One is not required to hold office to do big things."

"Defeat for the presidency has soured and embittered other men and rendered them incapable of doing well those 'big things' which are within the reach of any one who has the will and the capacity to work regardless of office. Defeat does not seem to embitter Mr. Bryan."

"Dr. Eliott of Harvard held an office, yet he did big things. Harrison holds no office, but he does big things. Edison never held office, but his life has been one of big things. Wendell Phillips was not an office holder, but his voice was more potent than a Presidential proclamation."

"In fact there are in these days so many big things to do, outside of office, that it is getting somewhat difficult to get the right kind of big men to take office."

This rings so true to the spirit of the American people that it accounts for their attitude both in victory and defeat. There are so many things to do outside the realm of politics that a national campaign is but an incident in the great drama of everyday life.

The government has never had at the head of its treasury department a great financier like Morgan or Rockefeller, and it seldom enjoys the services of a great president.

The portfolios are usually held by men of average ability. Public servants who render faithful and intelligent service, but servants nevertheless, occupying stations which fail to attract men of great ability and attainment.

Neither is the average citizen an office-seeker. He is content to stay by the farm, the shop and the store, and attend to business, with but little thought or anxiety about public affairs.

This is the American spirit, so busy and yet so loyal and patriotic that no foe may intrude with impunity. The best nation under the sun, and growing better every year.

The first man who attempts to arouse factional strife in Wisconsin should be hit over the head with an unstuffed club.

With Roosevelt in the senate there ought to be something doing most of the time.

The decks are cleared for action and prosperity will be in full swing before the dawn of the new year.

Heart and Haskell can now settle their little differences without disturbing the body politic.

Radicalism was rebuked in Ohio and Indiana, and an era of common sense will follow.

Governor Davidson won a double victory in his campaign, and the people are gratified.

Time to saw wood and make hay, and everybody is at it.

Asking the impossible.

"Have you any alarm clocks?" inquired the customer.

"Yes, sir," said the man behind the counter. "About what price do you wish to pay for one?"

"The price is no object, if I can get the kind I am after. What I want is one that will rouse the hired girl without waking the whole family."

"I don't know of any such alarm clock as that, sir," said the man.

"We keep just the ordinary kind—the kind that will wake the whole family without disturbing the hired girl," Chicago Tribune.

Another Monopoly.

"Biggie says he owes everything to his wife."

"Well," answered the man who never has a kind word, "I don't know of anyone else who would take a chance on being his creditor."—Washington Star.

The Limit.

Perhaps the worst thing that can be said about liquor is that it makes some men believe they can sing.—Chicago News.

TERMS DON'T SUIT BULGARIA.

Turkey's Plan of Settlement is Declared Unacceptable.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 7.—The agent in this country of Bulgaria has been instructed to make representations to Russia that the terms proposed by Turkey for a settlement of the difficulties growing out of the Bulgarian declaration of independence are entirely unacceptable, and to request that Russia unite with the other powers in the use of influence at Constantinople toward securing a modification of the attitude of the Porte in the premises.

Bulgaria feels that the powers which forced Bulgarian demobilization are bound morally to ease their influence for a peaceable settlement of the questions at issue, which, it is understood, are purely financial.

Old and True Saying.

Imitation is the sincerest flattery.—Colton.

Heart to Heart Talks.

By EDWIN A. NYE.

Copyright, 1908, by Edwin A. Nye.

"SUICIDE IS CONFESSION."

A young man threw himself into the Chicago river. When he was pulled out he said he was driven to commit suicide. He said:

"I could not see my way through life."

Poor young fool!

He had $20 in his pockets, was strong and healthy, and there was no one dependent upon him.

COVARD!

Supposing all of us who cannot see our way through life should jump into the river, what would become of the census?

It is not given to mortals to see the end from the beginning. None of us has a map of the expedition in which he is engaged. One may have his plans, but plans fall down. Unforeseen things happen. Mortal prophecy fails because of contingencies. Often the way grows misty; often the stars do not shine.

But the wise man knows—

THE FORCES THAT ARE FOR US ARE GREATER THAN THOSE THAT ARE AGAINST US. Therefore—

The wise man goes on bravely and blindly.

Should we say blindly? Rather he goes by faith instead of sight. Faith "sees the glimmer of a star and hears the rustle of an angel's wings." Faith does not SEE the way; it HOLDS the way unseen.

Because of this lack of faith and courage and because of morbid broodings young men and women by the hundreds are committing rash self destruction.

It looks as if moral courage, the bravery of mental and emotional resolution, is decreasing.

It should not be so.

Life is given to be hazarded. It is a gift, and no one has the moral right to throw away a gift. Therefore let mortals hug life closely. If defiance comes, why, even defiance, if honorable, is a form of victory. Let us die harnessing on toward the goal! If the harness sometimes galls the tender places—well, scars are creditable.

Life is to be lived—to the hilt.

Bravely drink the cup.

Lift the banner high and drink to the brave who go upward, though the way be full of stones and dark and thorny.

If there be sweet poison in the cup, Fate put it there, not you or I.

And as for Death? Why, let him knock whenever he wills. You—and me—he shall not have—not TILL HE BREAKS DOWN THE DOOR!

HE TOOK NO CHANCES ON EGGS.

Man with "Hen Fruit" Refused Admission to Theater.

A theatrical company that played in repertoire in country villages barred a citizen of a town, not long ago, when he entered the theater with a basket, after having purchased a ticket. Just as he was going in, the cover of the basket unaccountably slipped off, revealing two dozen eggs.

"H!" said the ticket taker. "This isn't Easter! Where are you going with them eggs?"

"None of your business! Here's my ticket, all paid for an' regular!" declared the citizen.

"Well, you don't take any eggs inside while I'm here," said the ticket taker; and then the other saw the reason his basket was suspected and roared with laughter.

He left the eggs in charge of the man at the box office and entered; and he enjoyed every moment of the show. When it was over, the manager returned the eggs to him, and said:

"I was afraid you might put your foot into the basket while you were applauding."—Modern Society.

Indian Girl's Plea.

A woman salesman for a department store recently went to the school for Cherokee Indian girls in Tahlequah to take measurements for their uniforms, and here is what she told about the girls: "These Indian girls are splendid specimens of womanhood. They are all splendidly formed, blooming with health and overflowing with good spirits. And the eternal feminine asserts itself as strongly among these pretty Indian maidens as among any of the girls in eastern colleges with whom I have been brought in contact. All of them make the same plea. Every girl in that seminary as I took her measure begged: 'Please make my suit a little tighter in the waist than this is and do be sure to have the skirt cut longer, won't you?' They all want to feel grown up and to don long skirts."

Vigorous Maine Maple.

A rock maple tree standing and still growing in a flourishing state on the farm of A. L. Hardy in West New Vineyard measures 14 feet in circumference at the base. It has a short trunk but heavy spreading branches and was growing on this farm 102 years ago when the late Samuel Evans, great-grandfather of Mr. Hardy, who was the first settler on the farm, came here in 1806, and was then about four inches in diameter. It stands not far from the dwelling house and has been tapped nearly every year for 75 years. Scarcely a dead limb is to be seen about it.—Kennebec Journal.

Enemies to Big Trees.

Natural influences in nearly all parts of Block Island are so unfavorable to tree growth that the planting of trees with the expectancy of having them attain even a fair size is not practicable, is the conclusion reached in a report prepared by H. L. Rogers, a special investigator connected with the United States bureau of forestry.

Mr. Rogers says that he finds the residents of the island so discouraged through failure to combat successfully the gales and salt vapor of the island that there is no sentiment that would guarantee a united effort for reforesting the island.

Not Amphibious.

After a scorching day's work Ben Smith lighted his cornucopia pipe and sat down on the little wharf to rest. Near him lay an alligator, the visible result of his labors. A tourist from the north approached and loftily remarked: "Ah, I see you have an alligator."

No answer.

"It is amphibious, is it not?"

The tone nettled the old man.

"Amphibious, h—!" he growled.

"He'd bite yer arm off before ye could say Jack Robinson!"—Everybody's Magazine.

How He Figured It.

"Howard says he has four mothers."

"How does he make it out?"

"Own, god, step and in-law."—Harper's Weekly.

Want-ads, bring results.

Picture Framing

Our same man has been framing pictures now for over ten years. A new shipment of mouldings just in, including a fine line of gills.

A big new assortment of Chamber Sets, ranging in price from $2.50 to $6.00 per set.

Homer Laughlin's Semi-Porcelain Ware, stock patterns.

We rent dishes in small or large quantities.

We have an immense line of Tumblers, Goblets, Wine Glasses, etc.

Get our prices on Crochery and Glass ware before buying.

SKELLY'S GROCERY

South Jackson St.

New Phone 152-159

Old Phone 159.

(Copyright by Underwood & Underwood, N. Y.)

HIS IMPERIAL HIGHNESS VALAISHED, CROWN PRINCE OF PERSIA AND SON OF THE PRESIDENT SHAM.

WIDOWS MORE THAN HOLD OWN.

Have No Trouble in Maintaining Advantage in Matrimony.

Sam Weller's immortal advice to his son still seems to hold good. Widows are still hard to beat in the matrimonial stakes. During the last year the spinsters have practically had it all their own way between the ages of 20 and 40, but after 40 it has been the widow who has scored all along the line, says the Philadelphia Record.

They would seem to acquire, after their fourth decade has been reached, a way of dealing with man that proves irresistible. The spinster apparently gives up to readily, takes too modest a view of her, seductive charms; whereas the widow, having a better knowledge of the frailty of the other sex, goes in and wins a second time.

Read the Want Ads.

DR.

PRICES' CREAM Baking Powder

With least labor and trouble it makes hot-breads, biscuit and cake of finest flavor, light, sweet, appetizing, digestible and wholesome.

Greatest Aid to Cookery

Conductor as a Walking Bank for Reckless Workers.

"For more than thirty years the most popular woodsman's bank in Maine was a bank on two legs," says Maj. Holmes Day, author of "King Spruce." "Until he was over seventy years old Uncle Nuto Swan was conductor on the Bangor & Placentia railroad, running between the city and Moosehead lake. With him rode the woods and driving crews. When they forgot themselves and made a racket on his train he used to cuff them into submission and no man ever raised his hand against Uncle Nuto. When the men came out of the woods with their pay most of them realized from bitter experience that the city folks would get all their money away from them in a few days. As soon as they would get aboard the train they would begin to strip ten-dollar bills off their rolls and hand the money to Uncle Nuto to 'sink' for them—banking it on call. They never forgot, nor did he; and in all the years there was never a dispute between Conductor Swan and any of his depositors. When they came back on his train they were sure of enough money for their fare and their tobacco at the lake outfitting store. They wouldn't have known very well what to do with more."

The Judgment of Women.

I have been beloved by the four women whose love was of the most comfort to me; my mother, my sister, my wife and my daughter. I have had the better part, and it will not be taken from me; for I often fancy that the judgments which will be passed upon us in the valley of Jehoshaphat I be neither more nor less than a lot of women, comforted by the Almighty.—Ernest Renan.

That "Rich Millionaire."

Some of the paragraphs have been having a lot of fun with a newspaper that described a certain man as a "rich millionaire." Still, that may not have been so redundant as it looks. The man may have had enough real money to pay a fine imposed for the speeding that he did with his automobile.

Just before—Latin proverb.

Give and Take in Life.

Conductor as a Walking Bank for Reckless Workers.

"For more than thirty years the most popular woodsman's bank in Maine was a bank on two legs," says Maj. Holmes Day, author of "King Spruce." "Until he was over seventy years old Uncle Nuto Swan was conductor on the Bangor & Placentia railroad, running between the city and Moosehead lake. With him rode the woods and driving crews. When they forgot themselves and made a racket on his train he used to cuff them into submission and no man ever raised his hand against Uncle Nuto. When the men came out of the woods with their pay most of them realized from bitter experience that the city folks would get all their money away from them in a few days. As soon as they would get aboard the train they would begin to strip ten-dollar bills off their rolls and hand the money to Uncle Nuto to 'sink' for them—banking it on call. They never forgot, nor did he; and in all the years there was never a dispute between Conductor Swan and any of his depositors. When they came back on his train they were sure of enough money for their fare and their tobacco at the lake outfitting store. They wouldn't have known very well what to do with more."

The Judgment of Women.

I have been beloved by the four women whose love was of the most comfort to me; my mother, my sister, my wife and my daughter. I have had the better part, and it will not be taken from me; for I often fancy that the judgments which will be passed upon us in the valley of Jehoshaphat I be neither more nor less than a lot of women, comforted by the Almighty.—Ernest Renan.

That "Rich Millionaire."

Some of the paragraphs have been having a lot of fun with a newspaper that described a certain man as a "rich millionaire." Still, that may not have been so redundant as it looks. The man may have had enough real money to pay a fine imposed for the speeding that he did with his automobile.

Just before—Latin proverb.

Give and Take in Life.

Conductor as a Walking Bank for Reckless Workers.

"For more than thirty years the most popular woodsman's bank in Maine was a bank on two legs," says Maj. Holmes Day, author of "King Spruce." "Until he was over seventy years old Uncle Nuto Swan was conductor on the Bangor & Placentia railroad, running between the city and Moosehead lake. With him rode the woods and driving crews. When they forgot themselves and made a racket on his train he used to cuff them into submission and no man ever raised his hand against Uncle Nuto. When the men came out of the woods with their pay most of them realized from bitter experience that the city folks would get all their money away from them in a few days. As soon as they would get aboard the train they would begin to strip ten-dollar bills off their rolls and hand the money to Uncle Nuto to 'sink' for them—banking it on call. They never forgot, nor did he; and in all the years there was never a dispute between Conductor Swan and any of his depositors. When they came back on his train they were sure of enough money for their fare and their tobacco at the lake outfitting store. They wouldn't have known very well what to do with more."

The Judgment of Women.

I have been beloved by the four women whose love was of the most comfort to me; my mother, my sister, my wife and my daughter. I have had the better part, and it will not be taken from me; for I often fancy that the judgments which will be passed upon us in the valley of Jehoshaphat I be neither more nor less than a lot of women, comforted by the Almighty.—Ernest Renan.

That "Rich Millionaire."

Some of the paragraphs have been having a lot of fun with a newspaper that described a certain man as a "rich millionaire." Still, that may not have been so redundant as it looks. The man may have had enough real money to pay a fine imposed for the speeding that he did with his automobile.

Just before—Latin proverb.

Give and Take in Life.

Conductor as a Walking Bank for Reckless Workers.

"For more than thirty years the most popular woodsman's bank in Maine was a bank on two legs," says Maj. Holmes Day, author of "King Spruce." "Until he was over seventy years old Uncle Nuto Swan was conductor on the Bangor & Placentia railroad, running between the city and Moosehead lake. With him rode the woods and driving crews. When they forgot themselves and made a racket on his train he used to cuff them into submission and no man ever raised his hand against Uncle Nuto. When the men came out of the woods with their pay most of them realized from bitter experience that the city folks would get all their money away from them in a few days. As soon as they would get aboard the train they would begin to strip ten-dollar bills off their rolls and hand the money to Uncle Nuto to 'sink' for them—banking it on call. They never forgot, nor did he; and in all the years there was never a dispute between Conductor Swan and any of his depositors. When they came back on his train they were sure of enough money for their fare and their tobacco at the lake outfitting store. They wouldn't have known very well what to do with more."

The Judgment of Women.

I have been beloved by the four women whose love was of the most comfort to me; my mother, my sister, my wife and my daughter. I have had the better part, and it will not be taken from me; for I often fancy that the judgments which will be passed upon us in the valley of Jehoshaphat I be neither more nor less than a lot of women, comforted by the Almighty.—Ernest Renan.

That "Rich Millionaire."

Some of the paragraphs have been having a lot of fun with a newspaper that described a certain man as a "rich millionaire." Still, that may not have been so redundant as it looks. The man may have had enough real money to pay a fine imposed for the speeding that he did with his automobile.

Just before—Latin proverb.

Give and Take in Life.

Conductor as a Walking Bank for Reckless Workers.

$10.00 Crowns

When a dentist charges you $10.00 for crowning your teeth, it is charging more than I consider the work is worth.

I crown teeth in this office as good as teeth can be crowned anywhere and charge but $5.00, and I figure too, that I charge sufficient to justify the best work that can be given.

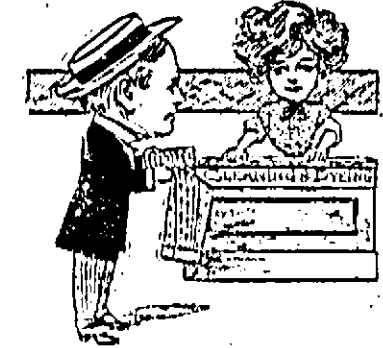

I will not slight the work at any time to make cheap prices.

Come in and let me examine your teeth.

I'll tell you what the cost will be, and you decide whether or not you care to have the work done later.

DR. F. T. RICHARDS
Office over Hall & Sayles' jewelry store
Janesville, Wis.

A COUNTER EFFECT

In the appearance of your soiled and mussed clothes will be apparent when they leave our establishment after being thoroughly cleaned and pressed. It is a process that renews the life of the garments. Do not discard any clothes if they are worn. We can make them look like new again. Dyeing them another color if necessary. Our work is high grade and our prices moderate.

C. F. BROCKHAUS
OPPOSITE MYERS HOUSE.

ESTABLISHED 1855

First National Bank

Capital$125,000
Surplus and Profits. 110,000

DIRECTORS

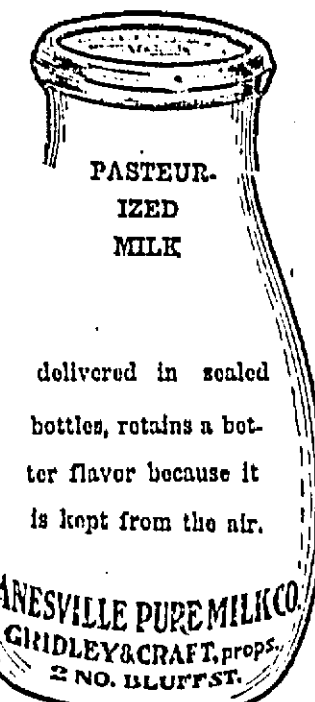

L. B. Carle Thos. O. Howe
S. C. Cobb A. P. Lovejoy
G. H. Rumlill V. P. Richardson
John G. Rexford

Ample Capital.
Strong Cash Reserve.
Considerate treatment of customers in every branch of banking.

3 per cent paid on savings deposits and on demand certificates of deposit.

RINK

OPEN EVERY EVENING
EXCEPT TUESDAY

delivered in sealed bottles, retains a better flavor because it is kept from the air.

THE CALORIC COMPANY TO TAKE CHOATE-HOLLISTER BUSINESS AND FACTORY

NEW CORPORATION FORMED WHICH WILL INCREASE PRESENT BUSINESS OF COMPANY

CHANGE ON MONDAY NEXT

Will Increase Working Force to a Hundred or More Men and Will Also Manufacture the Caloric Fireless Cooker—Grand Rapids Men Interested.

On Monday next "The Caloric Company", a new concern which has been organized to take over the business and factory of the Choate-Hollister Company of Janesville and the Caloric Fireless Cooker Company of Grand Rapids, Michigan, will assume control of the local factory with W. D. Hudson of Grand Rapids as manager of the two companies. "The Caloric Company", which was organized within the past few days is composed of George G. Sutherland, R. M. Hostwick, Jr., A. E. Bingham of Janesville and John G. Grohman, W. D. Hudson, Alvin T. Thoma and A. S. Hicks of Grand Rapids. Its capital stock is $100,000. The officers elected are: George G. Sutherland, president; A. S. Hicks, Grand Rapids, vice president; W. D. Hudson, Grand Rapids, secretary; A. E. Bingham, Janesville, treasurer.

By this consolidation of two concerns Janesville is to be the beneficiary and the plant of the Choate-Hollister company will be enlarged, the working force increased and both the present line of furniture and the fireless cookers manufactured in Janesville. Many of the new workmen will be brought here from Grand Rapids, adding to the population of the city.

W. D. Hudson, secretary of the company, will be the resident manager and will take charge of the local factory on Monday. Mr. L. J. Estes will also remain with the new company. Mr. Hudson will move his family here from Grand Rapids as soon as possible and will also bring with him a part of the office force in their Grand Rapids factory.

For the present the two factories will be operated separately, the cooker being manufactured in Grand Rapids, but it is expected by the first of the year the necessary changes in the local building will have been completed and the room necessary for the cookers will be ready, at which time the two departments will be joined under the one roof. This will mean an increase over the present working force of forty now employed at the Choate-Hollister plant to a hundred and fifty, including the office force.

The Caloric fireless cooker is an innovation in the manufacturing world and at present the company is unable to fill the orders now on its books. Samples of the finished product were exhibited at H. L. McNamara's hardware store two months ago and the wonderful features of the new process of cooking explained.

The Caloric cooker is the result of the experiments and labors of six years and is considered one of the most perfect on the market today. Several of which are in use in the city have demonstrated their value as a useful adjunct, both summer and winter, to any household. The idea is the same as found in the thermostat bottom.

Instead of the old fashioned hay packing an entirely new system is used by which the heat is retained by means of steel plates which are heated to the proper temperature and then placed in the cooker after which the raw food is placed on top of them and the lid closed down, by this means the heat is retained and the food is cooked.

The packing, besides the cookers themselves, which keep the heat in the cooker, is so arranged that it does not have any chance of coming in contact with any of the food itself and remains in proper shape for use indefinitely.

At present the inventors are at work on an electrical connection which will make the work of cooking even easier. The food is placed in the cooker, the electric connection turned on and when the proper temperature is reached it is automatically shut off and the food goes on cooking with the heat which is used over and over.

Another feature of the cooker is that an entire dinner including ice cream can be prepared at the same time in the different basins and ice cream freezing on one end while the roast is cooking at the other and the vegetables in between.

A. E. Bingham and R. M. Hostwick, Jr., who have been instrumental in bringing about the consolidation of the two companies, have visited the Grand Rapids factory and have inspected all the workings of the cooker. Its results are marvelous and at present they are months behind their orders.

By the consolidation Janesville adds a new industry to the list of its factories and one which will increase at the start doubling the present capacity of the present factory and as soon as additional warehouses and factory additions can be constructed will be even larger.

LAUREANS INITIATE FOURTEEN MEMBERS

High School Society Enjoys Its Annual Ceremony, Following It with a Banquet at the Tea Rooms.

Last evening the Laureans, the girls' society of the high school, held their annual initiation in the gymnasium of the High School. Fourteen girls underwent the initiation ceremony for their admittance into the society. Later in the evening an adjourned banquet was prepared for them. The table was beautifully decorated in pink and in the center was a large bowl of the Laurean flowers, carnations. Former Laurean girls waited on table. Toasts followed the banquet. Mildred Sutherland, as toastmaster, evening.

made very appropriate remarks; Welcome—Given by Pres. Wilma Jones; Response—Marjorie Bennett; How It Feels to Be Green—Katherine Jeffries; Recollections—Verna Nolan; History of Laureans—Marion Blodgett; Suggestions—Miss Sawyer (terile). The girls adjourned after enjoying a very delightful evening. The following is a list of the young ladies initiated: Margaret Doty, Marian Worlock, Ruth Jeffries, Katherine Jeffries, Florence Crissey, Alice Reynolds, Verna Mow, Richard Head, Marjorie Bennett, Nellie Robinson, Sarah Garbutt, Irene Langdon, Margaret Allen, Clara Grubb.

SOCIETY

Central hall was the scene yesterday afternoon of an enjoyable card party given under the auspices of St. Mary's Court No. 175, W. C. O. P. There was a large attendance and the trophies, which consisted of cut-glass tumblers and a handsome fern dish, were awarded to Mrs. James York, Mrs. Fred Chrysler, and Mrs. John Madden. A tempting two-course luncheon was served.

Following an initiation of fourteen new members at the high school thirty-two young ladies of the Laurean society of the high school enjoyed a banquet at the Tea Shop in the Jackson building last evening. The banquet room was attractively decorated in pink and the tables were illuminated with candles.

Mrs. Sanford Soverhill entertained another company of ladies at cards yesterday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Avery and daughter of Chicago are guests at the home of P. J. Mount.

On Monday evening next the Apollo Club will hold their first concert for November. Leland H. Hall will be the artist giving a piano recital at Library hall. The next concert will be given on November 29 when Grace Nelson, soprano, will be the artist of the evening.

LOCAL PARAGRAPHS.

New millinery at Archie Reid's. Hear the quartette sing at the Baptist rally tomorrow.

Watch and wait—in Tuesday's issue for the particulars of Frank D. Kimball's Challenge Furniture Sale, commencing Thursday, Nov. 12th.

Solvey—burn it as you do hard coal. Good speaking and fine music at the Sunday school rally at the Baptist church tomorrow. Be sure and come.

Best lot mittens at Archie Reid's. Mr. C. H. Smith of the Typewriter Remodeling Co., Milwaukee, will be in Janesville Monday, Nov. 9, to do repairing on all makes of typewriters. Call or phone for instructions.

Shawl sale at Archie Reid's. Watch and wait—in Tuesday's issue for the particulars of Frank D. Kimball's Challenge Furniture Sale, commencing Thursday, Nov. 12th.

Children's underwear at Archie Reid's. Children's wool hose, 25c value, special at 15c. T. P. Burns, Chrysanthemums and cut flowers for sale, Center St. Green House. "Should Auld Acquaintance Be Forgotten?" It will not be if you attend the rally at the Baptist Sunday school tomorrow. You will find many of your friends there.

Sale of children's cloaks at Archie Reid's. Children's winter hose, 25c value, special at 15c. T. P. Burns, Chrysanthemums and cut flowers for sale, Center St. Green House. "Should Auld Acquaintance Be Forgotten?" It will not be if you attend the rally at the Baptist Sunday school tomorrow. You will find many of your friends there.

Sale of children's cloaks at Archie Reid's. Children's winter hose, 25c value, special at 15c. T. P. Burns, Chrysanthemums and cut flowers for sale, Center St. Green House. "Should Auld Acquaintance Be Forgotten?" It will not be if you attend the rally at the Baptist Sunday school tomorrow. You will find many of your friends there.

Sale of children's cloaks at Archie Reid's. Children's winter hose, 25c value, special at 15c. T. P. Burns, Chrysanthemums and cut flowers for sale, Center St. Green House. "Should Auld Acquaintance Be Forgotten?" It will not be if you attend the rally at the Baptist Sunday school tomorrow. You will find many of your friends there.

Sale of children's cloaks at Archie Reid's. Children's winter hose, 25c value, special at 15c. T. P. Burns, Chrysanthemums and cut flowers for sale, Center St. Green House. "Should Auld Acquaintance Be Forgotten?" It will not be if you attend the rally at the Baptist Sunday school tomorrow. You will find many of your friends there.

Sale of children's cloaks at Archie Reid's. Children's winter hose, 25c value, special at 15c. T. P. Burns, Chrysanthemums and cut flowers for sale, Center St. Green House. "Should Auld Acquaintance Be Forgotten?" It will not be if you attend the rally at the Baptist Sunday school tomorrow. You will find many of your friends there.

Sale of children's cloaks at Archie Reid's. Children's winter hose, 25c value, special at 15c. T. P. Burns, Chrysanthemums and cut flowers for sale, Center St. Green House. "Should Auld Acquaintance Be Forgotten?" It will not be if you attend the rally at the Baptist Sunday school tomorrow. You will find many of your friends there.

Sale of children's cloaks at Archie Reid's. Children's winter hose, 25c value, special at 15c. T. P. Burns, Chrysanthemums and cut flowers for sale, Center St. Green House. "Should Auld Acquaintance Be Forgotten?" It will not be if you attend the rally at the Baptist Sunday school tomorrow. You will find many of your friends there.

Sale of children's cloaks at Archie Reid's. Children's winter hose, 25c value, special at 15c. T. P. Burns, Chrysanthemums and cut flowers for sale, Center St. Green House. "Should Auld Acquaintance Be Forgotten?" It will not be if you attend the rally at the Baptist Sunday school tomorrow. You will find many of your friends there.

Sale of children's cloaks at Archie Reid's. Children's winter hose, 25c value, special at 15c. T. P. Burns, Chrysanthemums and cut flowers for sale, Center St. Green House. "Should Auld Acquaintance Be Forgotten?" It will not be if you attend the rally at the Baptist Sunday school tomorrow. You will find many of your friends there.

Sale of children's cloaks at Archie Reid's. Children's winter hose, 25c value, special at 15c. T. P. Burns, Chrysanthemums and cut flowers for sale, Center St. Green House. "Should Auld Acquaintance Be Forgotten?" It will not be if you attend the rally at the Baptist Sunday school tomorrow. You will find many of your friends there.

Sale of children's cloaks at Archie Reid's. Children's winter hose, 25c value, special at 15c. T. P. Burns, Chrysanthemums and cut flowers for sale, Center St. Green House. "Should Auld Acquaintance Be Forgotten?" It will not be if you attend the rally at the Baptist Sunday school tomorrow. You will find many of your friends there.

Sale of children's cloaks at Archie Reid's. Children's winter hose, 25c value, special at 15c. T. P. Burns, Chrysanthemums and cut flowers for sale, Center St. Green House. "Should Auld Acquaintance Be Forgotten?" It will not be if you attend the rally at the Baptist Sunday school tomorrow. You will find many of your friends there.

Sale of children's cloaks at Archie Reid's. Children's winter hose, 25c value, special at 15c. T. P. Burns, Chrysanthemums and cut flowers for sale, Center St. Green House. "Should Auld Acquaintance Be Forgotten?" It will not be if you attend the rally at the Baptist Sunday school tomorrow. You will find many of your friends there.

Sale of children's cloaks at Archie Reid's. Children's winter hose, 25c value, special at 15c. T. P. Burns, Chrysanthemums and cut flowers for sale, Center St. Green House. "Should Auld Acquaintance Be Forgotten?" It will not be if you attend the rally at the Baptist Sunday school tomorrow. You will find many of your friends there.

Sale of children's cloaks at Archie Reid's. Children's winter hose, 25c value, special at 15c. T. P. Burns, Chrysanthemums and cut flowers for sale, Center St. Green House. "Should Auld Acquaintance Be Forgotten?" It will not be if you attend the rally at the Baptist Sunday school tomorrow. You will find many of your friends there.

Sale of children's cloaks at Archie Reid's. Children's winter hose, 25c value, special at 15c. T. P. Burns, Chrysanthemums and cut flowers for sale, Center St. Green House. "Should Auld Acquaintance Be Forgotten?" It will not be if you attend the rally at the Baptist Sunday school tomorrow. You will find many of your friends there.

Sale of children's cloaks at Archie Reid's. Children's winter hose, 25c value, special at 15c. T. P. Burns, Chrysanthemums and cut flowers for sale, Center St. Green House. "Should Auld Acquaintance Be Forgotten?" It will not be if you attend the rally at the Baptist Sunday school tomorrow. You will find many of your friends there.

Sale of children's cloaks at Archie Reid's. Children's winter hose, 25c value, special at 15c. T. P. Burns, Chrysanthemums and cut flowers for sale, Center St. Green House. "Should Auld Acquaintance Be Forgotten?" It will not be if you attend the rally at the Baptist Sunday school tomorrow. You will find many of your friends there.

Sale of children's cloaks at Archie Reid's. Children's winter hose, 25c value, special at 15c. T. P. Burns, Chrysanthemums and cut flowers for sale, Center St. Green House. "Should Auld Acquaintance Be Forgotten?" It will not be if you attend the rally at the Baptist Sunday school tomorrow. You will find many of your friends there.

Sale of children's cloaks at Archie Reid's. Children's winter hose, 25c value, special at 15c. T. P. Burns, Chrysanthemums and cut flowers for sale, Center St. Green House. "Should Auld Acquaintance Be Forgotten?" It will not be if you attend the rally at the Baptist Sunday school tomorrow. You will find many of your friends there.

Sale of children's cloaks at Archie Reid's. Children's winter hose, 25c value, special at 15c. T. P. Burns, Chrysanthemums and cut flowers for sale, Center St. Green House. "Should Auld Acquaintance Be Forgotten?" It will not be if you attend the rally at the Baptist Sunday school tomorrow. You will find many of your friends there.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Dr. Robert Martin of Milwaukee visited Mr. and Mrs. William Reed at 3110 Center street yesterday.

Prof. H. C. Buell is in Milwaukee today on business in connection with the state teachers convention to be held soon.

H. S. Lovejoy and F. E. Birch witnessed the Beloit-Knox foot ball game today. Mr. Birch acted as one of the officials.

The Beloit high school foot ball team passed through here this morning on their way to Monroe, where they play this afternoon.

Ray Yates, who is just recovering from an illness of several months' duration, spent yesterday and today in Janesville.

Miss Mina L. Cutler was a Beloit visitor today.

George L. Atkins of Beloit was in the city yesterday.

Miss Janette Goddes went to Chicago yesterday to remain for over Sunday.

Bird Stoller of Watertown, South Dakota, is here for a short visit.

Don Jeffries was a Madison visitor today.

Mrs. Searles of Brodhead was in Janesville on business today.

Mrs. George Hesse and daughter Florence spent the day in Whitewater, where they were the guests of relatives.

Mr. Young of Brodhead was a Janesville visitor today.

Supt. F. H. Wellartz of the Canning factory and Dr. W. D. Morrill left this morning for a ten day hunting trip in the northern woods.

Supt. Henry A. Tice of the western division of the Santa Fe railroad with headquarters at Dodge City, Kan., is shaking hands with old friends in the city. Mr. Tice was a Janesville boy thirty years ago. He has been connected with the Santa Fe road for many years and has made good.

Mrs. G. H. Martin of Beloit visited with her parents in the city today.

Mrs. J. H. Burns of Marshfield has been visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Walker. Her husband came down last evening and accompanied her home this morning.

E. M. Hubbard of Edgerton was in the city today.

J. A. Young was here from Brodhead today.

The Messadames Lette Searis and C. W. Carpenter of Brodhead were visitors in the city today.

Miss Florence Elmer has returned from a visit with relatives in Barnboro. Her nephew, Glen McHugh, accompanied her.

On these two days the agent of a prominent manufacturer of furs will be at our store with a beautiful line of furs including everything in small furs and fur coats, including mink, lynx, and all the less expensive furs. The gentleman in charge is a practical furrier sent by the firm. He will make estimates on alterations, repairs and remodeling of old furs; any neck piece to match any mink and any mink to match any neck piece. A most beautiful line of fur coats, beaver, otter, squirrel, seal, etc., will be shown. Any piece will be delivered or held by us until wanted.

J. M. BOSTWICK & SONS.

POLICE ATTENTION CALLED to the fact that their wives, as well as other wives, should take advantage of Frank D. Kimball's Great Challenge Furniture Sale which will open on Thursday, Nov. 12th. The opportunity of a lifetime for wide-awake furniture buyers, be it one piece or an entire outfit. Make out your list and hurry here if you value money or need furniture. We have pitched the dollar to a bigger load than it ever drew before.

HOME-MADE COOKING.

Orders taken for delicious home-made cakes, pies, cookies, doughnuts, biscuits, bread, etc., at 224 Jackson street. New phone 531.

Rally Day.

If it has been a long time since you attended Sunday school why not start tomorrow at the Baptist Sunday school, Nov. 8th, at noon?

FOR RENT.

Two pleasant front rooms, furnished, on second floor at 224 Jackson street. New phone 531.

Rally Day.

We are expecting you at the Baptist Sunday school tomorrow at twelve o'clock for the great Rally Day. Do not fail to come and bring your friends.

CURRENT ITEMS.

Elevator Put In: A new electric elevator has been put in at the G. H. Russell warehouse, number 2, on Holmes street.

Everybody Come: Everybody, young and old, large and small, is invited to attend the rally at the Baptist Sunday school tomorrow, Nov. 8, at noon.

F. & A. M.: Regular communication of Janesville Lodge No. 55, F. & A. M., at Masonic Temple at 7:30 Monday evening. Work. Visiting brethren invited.

Marriage Licenses: Marriage licenses have been issued to Christian H. Stendal and Olga S. Rygge of Porter and to J. R. Ward and Mary Luckinsinger of Beloit.

Second Papers: Three applications for second naturalization papers have been filed since the election. This makes thirteen petitions to be heard on the fourth Monday of next February.

Mrs. Hall is Very Low: Mrs. Elizabeth Hall, who recently celebrated her 86th birthday anniversary and who formerly conducted a store on West Milwaukee street, is critically ill at her home on South River St. and is not expected to live. She was unconscious last evening and relatives have been summoned from Chicago.

ANDREW OLSON ON TRIAL TODAY

CHARGED WITH SELLING LIQUOR WITHOUT A LICENSE.

JURY OF SIX HEARS CASE

Legality of Petition Calling for Election Which Put Town of Rock in "Dry" List is Questioned.

Among the ablest candidates drawn yesterday for a place on the six-man jury to try the case of the State vs. Andrew Olson, of Atton, charged with selling liquor without a license, there were five saloon-keepers and one brewer. After the names of these had been stricken from the list and the remaining twelve examined, only three were accepted by the attorneys representing the two parties to the case. Several tales were examined this morning and the tribunal finally decided upon a panel of Thomas Leachy, Fred Shulka, R. C. Jackson, Eugene De Forest, G. D. Bruce, and W. L. Loucks.

Is the Town of Rock Dry?

Attorney O. A. Ostroch appears for the prosecution in place of District Attorney J. L. Fisher and Attorney William Smith and E. R. Ryan are counsel for the defense. The latter opened their rapid-fire of objections before the first witness was placed on the stand, taken exception to Atty. Ostroch's statement to the jury that prior to July 7, 1908, the town of Rock permitted saloon licenses to be issued but that thereafter, in accordance with the no-license verdict of the voters at the spring election, none had been granted. Objection No. 1 was overruled and the prosecution stated that Olson was charged with having dealt in intoxicating liquors without a license on October 29. After another troop of objections had been disposed of, U. G. Walte, clerk of the town of Rock, showed by the records that no license or permit to sell intoxicating liquors had been issued by the town to any saloon-keeper or registered pharmacist since July 7. Vigorous objections were filed to the introduction of the petition by voters of the town of Rock which brought about the special election on the liquor question, April 7, 1908. After several of those had been overruled, Atty. Ryan took exception to it on the ground that whereas there had been 194 votes for governor in the town of Rock the previous year and the law required the signature of 10 per cent of the voters in order to take a vote on the liquor question, as a matter of fact only 15 of the citizens had signed the instrument and no special election on the question could therefore have been legally held. The introduction of a certified copy of the entries at the internal revenue office at Madison, showing that a government license had been issued to Andrew Olson for the year beginning July 1, 1908, and ending July 1, 1909, was also opposed and Atty. Ostroch temporarily withdrew the offer of this exhibit.

Confession of "Wet Goods."

W. J. Miller, chairman of the town of Rock, who in his official capacity made complaint against Olson, corroborated the testimony given by Mr. Walte. He was unable to state what business Mr. Olson had been engaged in since July. Deputy Sheriff William Shanks stated that he visited Atton on Oct. 21, leaving Janesville at 5:30 and returning to Janesville about 15 minutes to eight in the evening, bringing with him several dozen bottles of beer, decanters of brandy and whiskey, and a half a keg of kimmel which he had confiscated on Olson's premises and that he delivered this property into the hands of the sheriff.

Drank Brandy and Beer.

Joseph Deneen, age nineteen, and an employee at Schmidley's restaurant, went on the stand this afternoon. He testified that he and George Bogardus drove to Atton on the night of Oct. 29 and visited Olson's place. Olson, he said, eyed him (Deneen) suspiciously at first and then said: "Hello, with me, it's all right." They went into a small room and had a round of brandy. After a while they went out into the bar-room and asked for brandy again. Olson told them they must call for "tea." Bogardus laid down a $10 bill and Olson could not change it until after he had sent for the wife. After two more drinks of "tea" they had some beer. They then purchased a bottle of the brandy to take along with them. Witness took one swallow out of the bottle. It was introduced as evidence, and Deneen declared that he had again tasted the contents today and that it was the same stuff which they had carried away from Olson's place. After Deneen's testimony had been completed the state rested its case. There was a short recess and the defense began introducing its witnesses about three o'clock. It is expected that the case will go to the jury into this afternoon.

Buy It in Janesville.

United States bonds are no better than the bonds of the city of Janesville. The city's bonds draw four per cent interest, payable semi-annually, and are in denominations of $500. They are always saleable and are the best of security for loans. These and other bonds drawing higher rates of interest for sale at The Rock County National Bank

FAIR STORE

Dry Goods Dep't.

Blankets, Comforts and Bed Spreads, fine assortment. Ladies' Wool Waists from $2.95 up. 52-60 Waists, silk, lace, wool and cotton, from 50c to $3.00. New white mercerized Waists, long sleeves, $1.25. Ladies' Silk Lined Gloves, 40c. Ladies' Fleece Lined or Golf Gloves, 25c. Women's Union Suits, 49c. Extra heavy Fleece Lined Underwear, 25c. Corset Covers, long sleeves, 25c. Great value in Satene Petticoats, 75c to $1.85. Knit Skirts, 25c. Extra heavy Fleece Lined Hose, rib top, 15c pair. Heavy ribbed Hose, 12 1/2c. Black Fleece Lined Hose, 9c. New flannellette Waists, also assortment, 12 1/2c value, per yard, 10c. Wool Knickerbockers, all colors, fine values, 25c and 45c. Outing flannel Night Gowns, 48c, 75c and 98c. $1.25 Wrappers and two-piece Suits, choice, $1.00. Long Kimonos, fleece or challis, $1.00. Wool Shawls, fine quality, choice 45c. Children's Bearskin Hoods, red, brown and white, 48c. Toggles, white, blue, or red, 19c, 25c, and 45c. German Knitting Yarn, variety of colors, 25c skein. Shotland Floss, 9c skein or 98c box.

Chocolate Bitter Sweets

The smoothest chocolate coated soft cream centers that never harden make our bitter-sweets the quality kind. All flavors by the pound or in boxes 50c PER LB.

PAPPAS' Candy Palace
THE HOUSE OF QUALITY.
19 E. Milw. St. Both phones.

TRUSTEE SALE

—OF THE—
LEONARD-UNDERWOOD CO.

Prices Cut Much Lower. These Good Must Move Fast.

A FEW TRIMMED HATS.
$20.00 values$7.50
$50.00 values$3.00
$65.00 values$3.50
$75.00 values$3.75

LOWELL'S AX DOES THE WORK.

CLOAKS AT PRICES TO MOVE THEM.

$30.00 Fur Trimmed Coat, $15.00
$33 Fur Trimmed Broadcloth $15
$12 Empire Style Cloth Coats, in plaids$5.50
$25 Misses' Fur Jackets, $10
A few suits of the 1908 models—at half price.

SHIRT WAISTS
One table of white & black Shirt Waists sold from $1.25 to $2.00, choice at85c

CHILDREN'S COATS
Good new styles, $4.50 values at $3
A good line of Overalls, Jackets, Vests, choice38c

Black Satin Shirts, pure black and with white stripes,35c
Men's Good Fleece Lined Underwear,38c

Twenty-Five Per Cent Discount On All Suits

SALE BEGINS MONDAY, NOVEMBER 9th

Three Hundred High Grade Garments at a Special Discount of Twenty-Five Per Cent

When you realize that this means a selection from Janesville's best line of ready-to-wear garments, and right at the time when you need them, the importance of such a discount is apparent. This sale includes everything in the stock, both ladies' and misses' sizes; also a number of the three piece suits. It means that you can buy suits at the following prices:

$18.75 Suits	$14.06	$32.50 Suits	$24.37
20	15	35	26.25
22.50	16.87	37.50	28.13
25	18.75	40	30
27.50	20.63	45	33.75
30	22.50	50	37.50

As all garments here are marked in plain figures there is no guesswork about the price. Look at the ticket, take off one-fourth, and the price is made.

Sale Begins Monday, Nov. 9th

Simpson's
GARMENT STORE

THE BUSY MAN'S CORNER.

The people of Plauen, Germany, were terrified by a violent earthquake shock.

The Citizens' and Farmers' State bank of Arkansas City, Kan., closed its doors.

Houston's park system fund has been increased by more than $4,000,000 by the terms of George P. Parkman's will, made 30 years ago.

Frank Sample, 67 years old, who was in charge of the William Shaw estate and interested in many financial institutions, died in Pittsburgh, Pa.

Prof. Edwin Emerson, author, lawyer and diplomat, and at one time law-partner of Noah Webster, is dead in Tokyo, Japan. He was 77 years old.

Mount McCulloch, which last year thrust its head up from the center of Douglas Island, 60 miles west of Dunedin, has disappeared in the throes of another volcanic change.

The suit to oust the Western Trust and Savings bank of Chicago as trustee of the $10,000,000 bond issue of the Chicago & Milwaukee Electric Railroad Company was begun in Milwaukee by Alexander Deaublen, a bondholder.

TELLS KAISER TO ABDICATE.

Editor Harden Makes Bold Attack on Emperor William.

Berlin, Nov. 7.—Maximilian Harden, in an article published in Die Zukunft Friday, demands that Emperor William either cease stirring up international controversies or abdicate the German throne.

Harden, speaking Friday night on the political situation to a large crowd, again called upon Emperor William to abdicate, saying that his grandfather thought of doing so on less critical occasions for which he was responsible.

As proof that Harden reflects a general sentiment, his attack is being widely quoted by papers all over the empire, a course that would not have been dared were the people not wholly in sympathy with the denunciations made against the emperor.

Mills Long Closed to Reopen.

New Hartford, Conn., Nov. 7.—It was stated here Friday that the cotton mills of the Mount Vernon and Woodbury cotton duck syndicate, located here, would be started again as soon as new machinery is installed. These mills were closed a decade ago and resulted in the moving away from the place of about 1,000 people, half of the inhabitants of the town.

Wanted Only Important Facts.

An American speeding over the continent of Europe in his automobile naked of his chauffeur: "Where are we?" "In Paris," shouted the man at the wheel, and the dust flew. "Oh, never mind details," irritably murmured the American millionaire; "I mean what continent?"

Proving It.

When the earth comes between the sun and the moon it always casts a round shadow. A place chosen for an experiment to prove the roundness of the earth "was near Bedford, England, where there is a straight six-mile stretch of water. At both ends and in the middle of this stretch of water posts were erected, each of the same definite height above the water level. Upon looking with a telescope along the tops of these three posts it was clearly seen that the center one overtopped the other by about six feet, thus marking the curvature of the earth's surface." This experiment has been repeated, and with every latest appliance brought to bear to effect absolute accuracy. The statement as to how a ship at sea shows the tops of her masts first and then gradually parts below that, but above the water, is a familiar one, and satisfies most minds.

The Cosmopolite.

Breadth of view for him. Intolerance—narrowness—all that drove him absolutely wild. Little, petty, local prejudices—Oh, Lord! He used to boil positively with rage at all that sort of thing. And the man who made him really boil over was Sniggles.

Sniggles was a New Yorker, and to Sniggles Manhattan Island was Alpha and Omega. Hence the rage of the afore-mentioned advocate of the breadth of view.

"Why, Sniggles!" he roared, pounding the table with his fist. "Sniggles is the kind of man who would label a map of the universe 'New York and Vicinity!'"

The Goose Liver Trade.

In Strasburg this month the canning of the famous goose livers begins, and will keep several thousand people busy till next April. The finest livers come from geese that have never laid an egg.

Johann Claus, in 1730, began to make goose liver patés in a small shop. He succeeded, but a competitor named Doyen, adding truffles to the goose liver paté, soon outdistanced him. Now all patés de foie gras contain truffles; all are made according to the recipe composed by the talented Doyen over 100 years ago.

At the Riding School.

"Mount your horse on the left side." "Why? What difference does it make?" "It's the rule." "But why should it be the rule?" "Because in the past horsemen wore swords. They wore them on the left hip. Hence, had they mounted on the right side, the sword would have got in the way. So they mounted on the left, and we still mount on the left. Horses are accustomed to it, and if you try to get up from the right you are liable to be kicked."

OUR FOUR-YEAR QUEENS.
ADIGAIL (SMITH) ADAMS.

Mrs. Washington's successor was, by her own words, "a mortal enemy to anything but a cheerful countenance and a merry heart." This was not daily agree to another very cheering comfort. To assist us in this great task, for Abigail Adams, the first mistress of the White House, has been through the stern training of poverty and responsibility, pestilence and warfare, and had proved herself truly patriotic and self-reliant, as well as unfailingly cheerful. If she had been less tied down, both by circumstances and by the tradition of a woman's limitation, she might have left a remarkable record, for in her letters there shows an intellectual vigor that found no other outlet. As it is she stands dimly outlined as a "heroic figure, with spirit ever equal to the occasion." The seat of government was moved to Washington in June, 1800, and the president took possession of the White house, which had been built at an expense of $200,000. What life in this new mansion involved is best told in one of Mrs. Adams' letters to her daughter.

"The house is upon a grand and superb scale, requiring about 30 servants to attend and keep the apartments in proper order, and perform the ordinary business of the house and stable; an establishment very well proportioned to the president's salary. The lighting of the apartments, from the kitchen to parlors and chambers, is a task indeed, and the fires we are obliged to keep to secure us from daily agree to another very cheering comfort. To assist us in this great task, for Abigail Adams, the first mistress of the White House, has been through the stern training of poverty and responsibility, pestilence and warfare, and had proved herself truly patriotic and self-reliant, as well as unfailingly cheerful. If she had been less tied down, both by circumstances and by the tradition of a woman's limitation, she might have left a remarkable record, for in her letters there shows an intellectual vigor that found no other outlet. As it is she stands dimly outlined as a "heroic figure, with spirit ever equal to the occasion." The seat of government was moved to Washington in June, 1800, and the president took possession of the White house, which had been built at an expense of $200,000. What life in this new mansion involved is best told in one of Mrs. Adams' letters to her daughter.

myself so occupied. My visitors, some of them, come three and four miles. The return of one of them is the work of one day."

Truly, the American queenship was anything but a staccato in those days. The surroundings of the White house were as incomplete as the mansion. Pennsylvania avenue was then a track through the etherbrushes of a morass. One sidewalk had been attempted, made of stone chips left from building the capitol, but it was so fatal to shoes that most citizens preferred the mud and dust.

Mrs. Adams lived in the White house only a short time, but she stamped her individuality strongly on its customs and traditions, and served as an admirable model and guide for her successors.

FRED W. CARPENTER.

Fred W. Carpenter, who has been President-elect Taft's private secretary for some time and whom it is expected will continue to act in this capacity after he becomes president, is a nephew of Edwin P. Carpenter of this city and a cousin of Charles Carpenter and H. P. Carpenter and Edward Carpenter of this city. Mr. Carpenter was with Secretary Taft both on his visit a year ago and again this year, to Janesville. He has now gone with the president-elect to Hot Springs, Virginia, for a few weeks.

Golf Rules Worth Heeding.

Lord Avebury, the lord rector of St. Andrew's University of London, in the course of an opening address offered the following advice: "Keep your eye on the ball. Keep straight. Keep in the course. Take time. Do not press—never up, never in. Don't lose heart. Be temperate in all things. Keep your temper, or you'll lose the game." From which it may be seen that the rules of golf make a fairly good philosophy to live by.

Want Ads, bring results.

Now that the election is over and Leavitt in Chicago. She says that there is no chance that the airing of her domestic unapprehensions might have a harmful effect upon the political future of her father, Mrs. Ruth Bryan Leavitt is preparing to bring her suit for absolute divorce from her artist-husband, William Homer Leavitt. This information was given out tonight by an intimate friend of Mrs. Leavitt's.

Foreign Missions To Let $1,000,578.
St. Louis, Nov. 7.—The general committee of foreign missions of the Methodist Episcopal church, at its session here Friday afternoon, began the work of itemizing the appropriations for the year 1909, after voting to appropriate a total of $1,000,578.

Taxicab Strike Settled.
New York, Nov. 7.—Settlement of the taxicab strike, which has been in progress for several weeks in this city, was announced Friday night by President H. N. Allen of the New York Taxicab Company.

Country's Heavy Fire Loss.
The average fire loss in the United States is said to be more than $2 a head, as compared with only one-third of a dollar in six of the leading European countries. The difference is ascribed to less rigidly enforced building laws.—Ohio State Journal.

Gratitude.
Whenever I give a mendicant of the male persuasion a coin these days I also bestow a good, hard kick to prevent his being too grateful. Too much gratitude is appalling.—New York Press.

Buy It In Janesville.

AT THE PLAY HOUSES.

With hardly a dissenting vote the press of the country were unanimous in their praise of the Shuberts' quality comedy success, "The Road to Yesterday," which appears at the Myers theatre Saturday, Nov. 7. The piece comes direct from the Lyric theatre, New York city, where it played to crowded houses for months. Miss Minnie Dupree, as Despatch Tyrell, has secured one of the biggest successes which she has ever achieved. "The Road to Yesterday" is a distinct hit and it is the wife during the absence of her husband. The husband's fault is to be a pliant, tender, dainty and so out of the ordinary run of plays that it cannot fail to secure both as a novelty and on account of its own charm. The play has come to stay, for it is a wronged, from the main incidents of er today for a visit of a fortnight with her son, Dr. Doolittle.

NEW GLARUS

New Glarus, Wis., Nov. 7.—Mrs. Casp. Hooley and daughter Nina went to Monroe yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. Matt S. Marty of Monroeville were here on a short visit to their parents yesterday.

Ed Gmur is building a large dining room to his hotel.

The New Glarus Emma Verdin made a big success on Tuesday with their fair. A good supper was also served by them in the evening, which was well attended.

About 150 guests attended the wedding of Sam Duerst and Louisa Hooley at Gmur's hall on Thursday. The young couple was presented with many nice presents.

Mrs. Arthur Sprague left after a few weeks' visit with her parents for her home in Chicago, Ill., again.

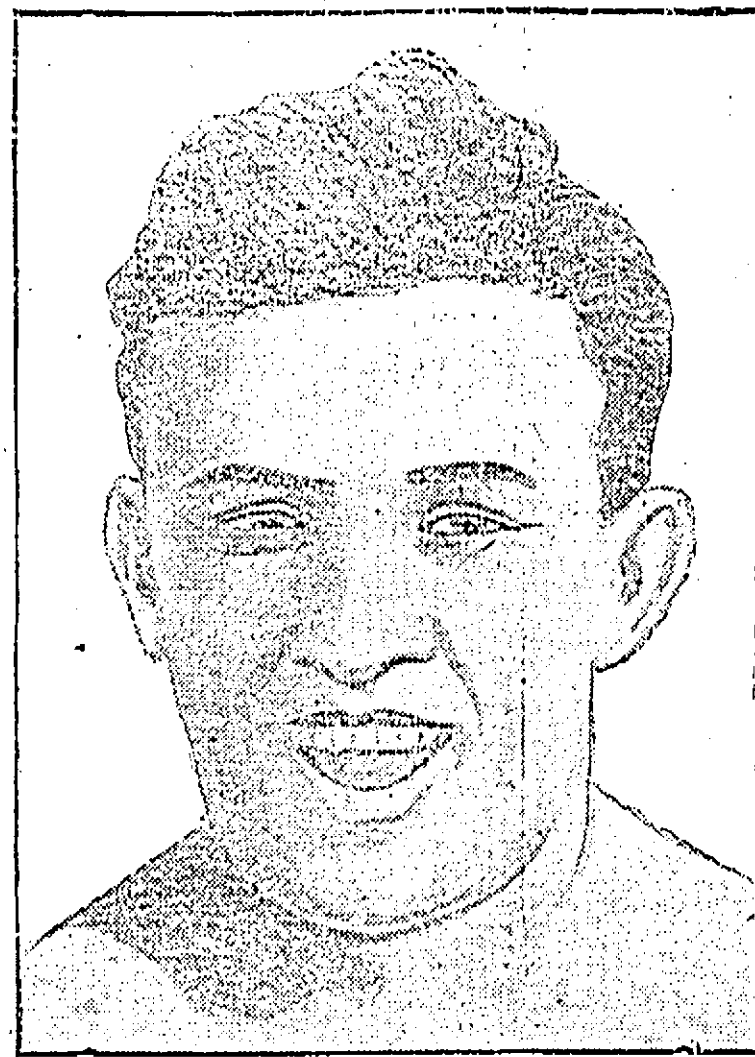

Fred Tinsley, proprietor of the Paul House, was in town yesterday on business.

Carl Zuercher, the well known cheese dealer of Broadhead, transacted business here yesterday.

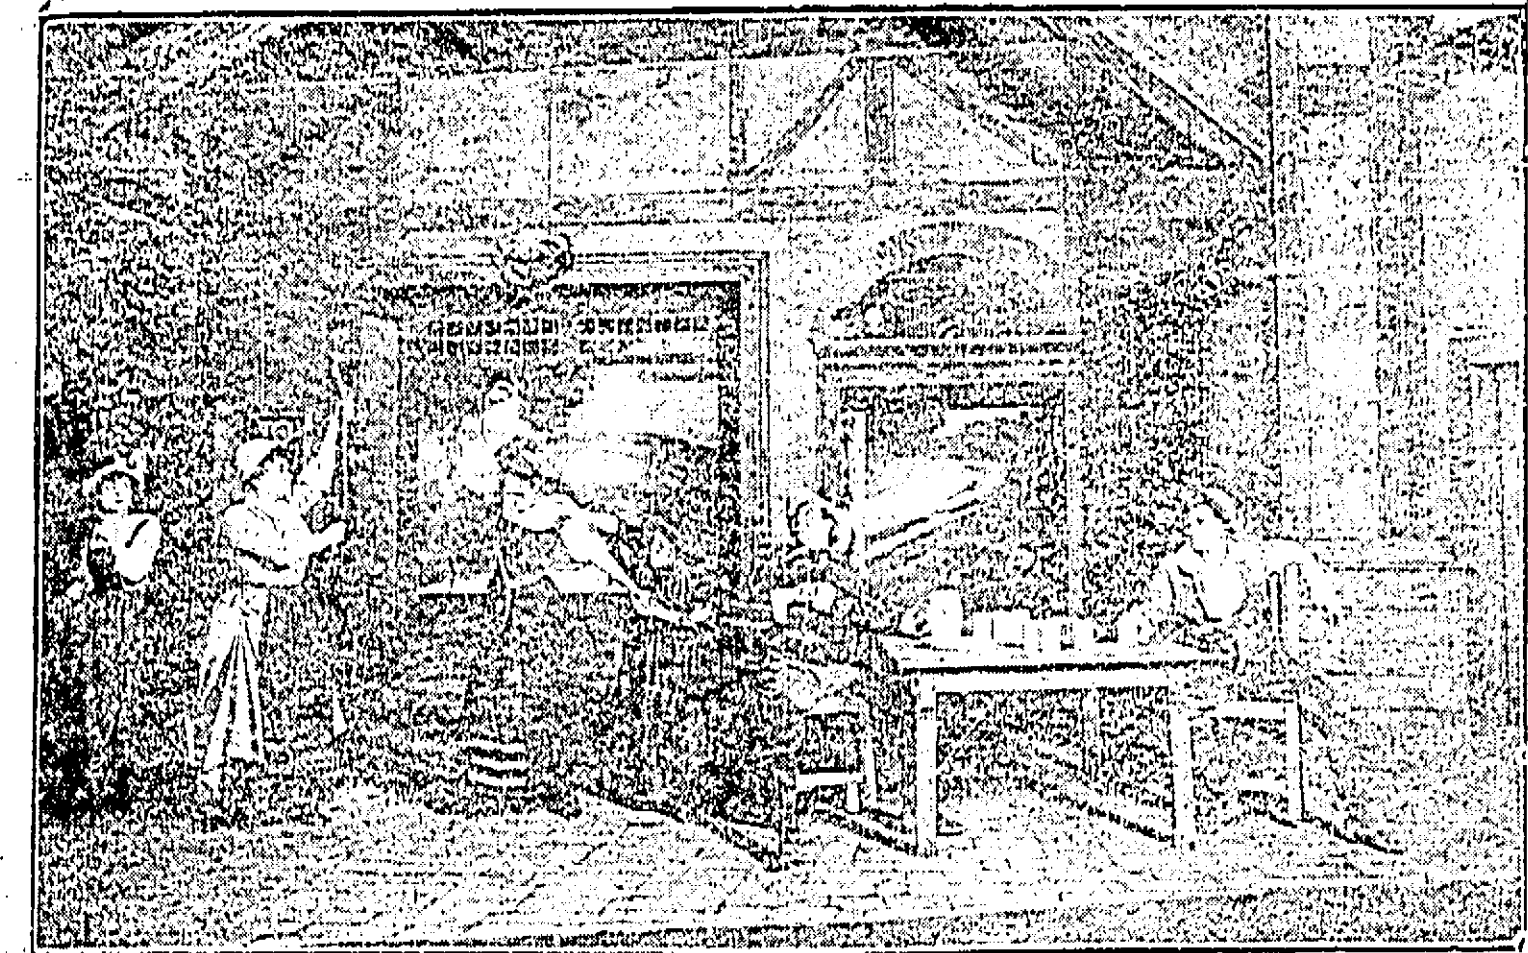

S. S. Zoumsta, the marshal, was here between trains yesterday from Monroe.

SCENE FROM "THE MUMMY AND THE HUMMING BIRD," MONDAY

An intimate picture of Stanley Ketchell, who met Stanley Ketchell, McFarland turned the tables and put Ketchell practically won his battle Thanksgiving day on the coast for the third time. Both previous decisions first three rounds. This will be the have been very definite, for in the first prize fight of the Ketchell practically won his battle year.

A SCENE IN "THE ROAD TO YESTERDAY" IN WHICH MISS MINNIE DUPREE IS APPEARING HERE THIS AFTERNOON AND EVENING unquestionably of the stuff that hits the story, and drama are made of.

"The Mummy and the Humming Bird" is a play of the hour and although now in its sixth season, is playing to capacity houses everywhere. This attraction will come to the Myers theatre Monday evening, Nov. 8.

ENTERTAINED HER FRIENDS AT CARDS

Mrs. E. L. Shepard gave a pleasant party at her home in Edgerton—Five Hundred Was the Game Played.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.) Edgerton, Nov. 6.—Mrs. E. L. Shepard very pleasantly entertained twelve of her lady friends Thursday afternoon at her home. The list of guests were Mrs. A. S. Mac, J. P. Coon, Andrew McIntosh, Theo. Clarke, Joel Thomson, C. E. Sherman, Fred Coon, James Conway, Clarence Dubock, Harry Ash, Willard McChesney and Miss Jessie Plank. Mrs. Andrew McIntosh carried off the honors. A dainty supper was served at five-thirty by the Misses Josephine Bates, Helen Coon, and Venice Thomson.

Mrs. Jane Kelley is spending a few days with relatives in Janesville.

Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Crandall, Dr. and Mrs. Morrison, and Rev. and Mrs. Michaels visited the M. E. Society at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Burton, north of Albion, on Thursday. A very fine dinner was served at twelve o'clock in fifty halves and gentlemen and a neat little son was realized.

Miss Josephine Bates is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Fred McKinney of Janesville.

W. A. Whitcomb, who has played Lord Lumley in this successful comedy-drama for three seasons under Mr. Jules Murry's management, will head this excellent company. Nothing has been spared to make this attraction the best that will appear in this city this coming season.

Miss Leo Thomson is expected home from Chicago tonight to stay over Sunday.

BROADHEAD.

Broadhead, Nov. 6.—A. Armstrong, wife and son Arthur, have been guests of Chicago friends the past day or two.

F. E. Nilsen went to Milwaukee Wednesday morning and from that city expected to go to Chicago. Mrs. Sadie White and two children of Ashland, returned on Wednesday to their home after visiting her parents. Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Chasman, Mr. J. P. Graham went to Chicago on Wednesday for a short stay.

Mrs. Kate Rigles is in Durand for a few days' visit with friends.

Dr. J. L. Fleck had business in Milwaukee Wednesday.

James Barber was out from Chicago with Wednesday, to see his family.

Walter Martin and sister, Mrs. W. Young of Beloit, were here Tuesday and Wednesday.

Claude Doolittle and wife spent Wednesday in Orfordville.

Mrs. Will Rice and Miss Rice were at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Burton, north of Albion, on Thursday. A very fine dinner was served at twelve o'clock in fifty halves and gentlemen and a neat little son was realized.

BETTER TIMES AHEAD

There are better times ahead for you if you use the NEW TUNGSTEN LAMP for interior and show window lighting. When you stop to consider that the brilliant, attractive Tungsten light costs no more than your dingy, troublesome light, doesn't it seem funny that you are not using this wonderful new light? Let's talk it over.

JANESVILLE ELECTRIC CO.

On the Bridge. Both Phones.

Read the Gazette Want Ads.

Now Comes the Crucial Hour

Who Will Be the Ones to Show Staying Qualities Necessary to Be Returned Winners? Who Will Be the Ones Chosen to Wear the Sparkling Diamond Rings and Beautiful Solid Gold Watches? Who Will Be Declared the Most Popular Person in This Vicinity and Be Awarded the Trip to Europe?

Contest Closes at 10 P. M. Saturday at the Gazette Office, Where the Final Count Will Be Made By the Following Well Known Gentlemen: Harry S. Haggart, Teller First Nat'l Bank; Stanley B. Woodruff, Teller Rock County Nat'l Bank; Leo N. Brownell, Head Bookkeeper Bower City Bank; Charles H. Gage, Teller M. & M. Bank, and Edward H. Behrendt, New Gas Light Co., Who Will Operate the Adding Machine.

The final count will be held at the Gazette office. Don't fail to have all your votes in the ballot box before 10 o'clock tonight.

With but a few more hours to go the contestants in the Gazette contest are straining every nerve and using up their gray matter in an effort to outgeneral the other fellows and clean up all their "promises" before the stroke of 10 o'clock tonight.

Vote early. And often. And vote in large bunches if you want to be among the winners.

You know that everyone is making a final effort to land among the winners so see it that your last few hours' effort is of the kind that counts for something.

It will be simply a question of who has the most votes. The judges are men of system and ability and will handle the problem in an accurate and businesslike manner, and in all likelihood the final result will be announced long before 11:30.

How high will the vote go? That's the question that will be asked many, many times in the next few hours. Search me, says the contest man, "It ought to go pretty close to a hundred thousand anyhow."

What do you think? Will it be one, two, three or four hundred thousand? It might be more and it might be less. Well, we'll all know before very long now.

There may be hundreds of thousands of votes cast on the last day of the contest. And then again there may not. You can never tell.

Many people imagine they can pick the winners. Many candidates feel sure of winning. Many of both classes will be surprised when the final count is made.

A contest is like an election. It is never over until the last minute and no one can tell anything about who will win until the count is made by the judges and they have announced the names of the winners.

Once again (at the risk of appearing tiresome) the contest manager wants to impress it on the minds of all concerned that all ballots must be in the ballot box at the Gazette office when the clock strikes 10 Saturday evening, November 7th.

DISTRICT NO. 1. LADIES' LIST, CITY OF JANESVILLE.

At least two prizes (Diamond Ring and Gold Watch) will be awarded in this list.

MRS. EMMA MALDON	28,516
MRS. CON McDONALD	20,670
MRS. ROBERT HOCKETT	14,343
MRS. E. R. WINSLOW	20,230
MRS. EVA CANNON	28,502
MISS ESTELLA P. MUELLER-SCHLADDER	23,065
MRS. FRED HAUSER	17,612
MRS. WILLARD ALLEN	10,829

GENTLEMEN'S LIST, CITY OF JANESVILLE.

At least two prizes (Diamond Ring and Gold Watch) will be awarded in this list.

DAVID H. GRIFFIN	23,165
C. F. BROCKHAUS	18,793
CHAS. KILMER	14,343
W. T. FLAHERTY	12,847
T. F. FOX	12,847
ED. FLEMING	20,618
W. J. IRWIN	10,831
J. L. HARPER	10,719

DISTRICT NO. 2. LADIES' LIST, TERRITORY OUTSIDE OF JANESVILLE.

At least two prizes (Diamond Ring and Gold Watch) will be awarded in this list.

MRS. U. G. MILLER	50,998
MISS CALA LACY	38,229
MRS. CHAS. KILMER	53,306
MISS MYRA LYNTS	39,759
MISS MAUDE JONES	22,087
MRS. LOTTIE ELLIS	38,072
MISS HELMA HAMMEL	35,010
MISS JESSIE KELLEY	10,905

GENTLEMEN'S LIST, TERRITORY OUTSIDE OF JANESVILLE.

At least two prizes (Diamond Ring and Gold Watch) will be awarded in this list.

JOHN FISHER	73,082
N. W. BUNKER	73,020
M. K. HAMBLETT	47,452
J. H. WEST	36,951
ARTHUR JONES	20,287
GEO. M. BARRUS	19,072
C. S. GRANDALL	19,072
R. V. HURLEY	15,680
WILLARD P. REESE	10,106

The GRAND PRIZE (a trip to Europe) will go to the candidate with the highest vote of the entire contest.

LAST CALL!

FINAL BONUS VOTE OFFER.

To the lady in Dist. No. 1 turning in the largest amount of collections on subscriptions between Tuesday at 7 a. m. and the close of the contest, 10 P. M. Nov. 7th, will be given a BONUS certificate for 50,000 VOTES.

To the lady turning in the second largest amount will be given a BONUS certificate for 25,000 VOTES.

To the gentleman in Dist. No. 1 turning in the largest amount of collections on subscriptions between Tuesday at 7 A. M. and the close of the contest will be given a BONUS certificate for 50,000 VOTES.

To the gentleman turning in the second largest amount will be given a BONUS certificate for 25,000 VOTES.

The same offer is made to the ladies and to the gentlemen in District No. 2.

These bonus votes are given in addition to the regular votes on each subscription. You can put this week's collection in a sealed envelope along with your other votes and deposit them in the ballot box on the last night and no one will know how much you have for the final count until the judges open the box. This method gives absolute justice to all.

GRAND PRIZE EUROPEAN TOUR

FIRST PRIZES
4 DIAMOND RINGS

SECOND PRIZES
4 SOLID GOLD WATCHES

THE PRICE OF THE DAILY GAZETTE AND VOTES GIVEN.

Back subscriptions must be paid up in full and at least one month in advance to be entitled to vote.

Anyone changing over from the weekly to the daily, will be counted as a new subscriber.

Renewals in Advance, Daily Gazette

By Carriers.

2 months.....$1.00.....75 votes

3 months.....$1.25.....150 votes

6 months.....$2.50.....400 votes

1 year.....$5.00.....1200 votes

2 years.....$10.00.....3600 votes

Daily Gazette by Mail.

1 year.....$3.00.....1200 votes

(Inside Rock county)

2 years.....$6.00.....3600 votes

(Inside Rock county)

1 year.....$4.00.....1200 votes

(Outside Rock county)

New subscribers are entitled to double the above vote.

SEMI-WEEKLY (NEW).

1 year.....(must be now).....800 votes

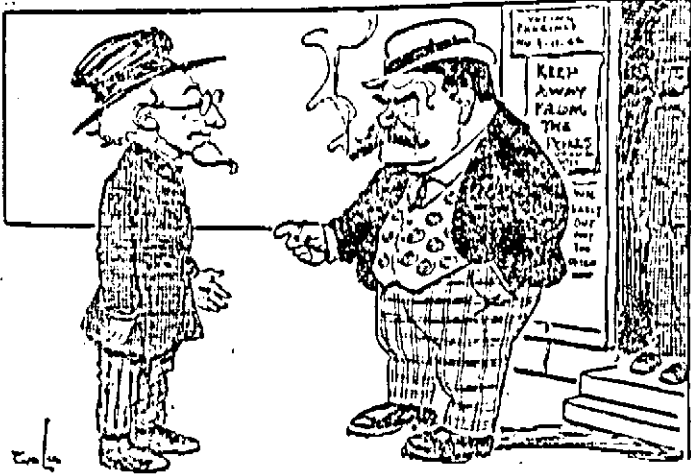

2 years.....(must be now).....2400 votes

No votes issued upon payment of less than $1.00.

Address all communications care Contest Editor, Daily Gazette, Janesville, Wis.

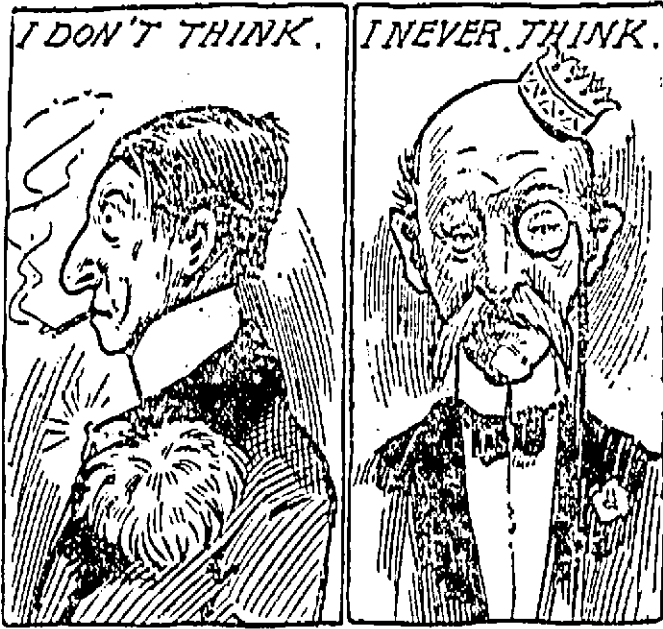

Candidates who have taken short time subscriptions for ten weeks, fifteen weeks, or six months may secure credit for a full year's vote by getting the subscriber to increase the length of his subscription to one year. The contestant will be given credit for the difference between the number of votes issued on the short time subscription and the full number scheduled for a year. Where contestants can increase the time of a subscription from one year to two or more years this same rule will apply.

BITS OF HUMOR

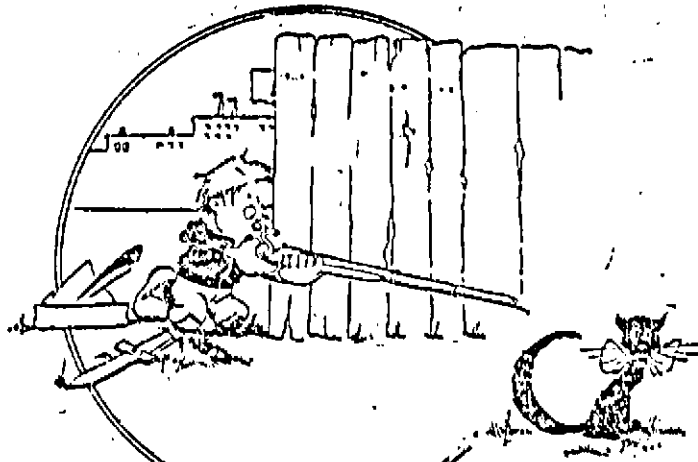

RAHR, OLD WAY.
Ward Heeler—How are you going to vote this year, Cloverleaf?
Cloverleaf—Want, I guess by droppin' me ballot in the box same as usual.

TWO TYPES OF NOBLE MANHOOD.

Local.

Foreign.

THE HUNTING SEASON IS NOW OPEN.

"SPECIAL MERIT" SEAMLESS SCHOOL SHOES

SCHOOL SHOES without seams—think of it—seamless school shoes! They are strong and sturdy, have seamless uppers, tough soles and double leather toes. By far the most durable and lasting shoes obtainable.

"Special Merit" Seamless School Shoes "wear like iron." They wear just twice as long as ordinary shoes with seams.

Made in all styles and sizes, for every day and Sunday wear—for boys and girls.

Your dealer will supply you. If not, write to us. Look for the Mayer Trade Mark on the sole.

FREE—If you will send us the name of a dealer who does not handle Special Merit Seamless School Shoes, we will send you, post paid, a beautiful picture of a pair of Mayer Seamless School Shoes. State which picture you want.

We also make Leading Lady Shoes, Household Shoes, Women's Western Comfort Shoes and Tennis Clever Shoes.

R. Mayer Boot & Shoe Co., MILWAUKEE, WISCONSIN

CHRONIC DISEASES

treated successfully for 32 years by

F. B. BREWER, M. D.

Now on record in his case book Dr. Brewer has 17,000 cases, many of them neighbors of yours who would be glad to tell you the results obtained from consulting him.

If you are troubled with chronic diseases of the brain, throat, lungs, stomach, kidneys, nerves, come to me for a free consultation, and if we can not cure you we will tell you so immediately. It will cost you nothing to secure our valuable advice.

You may have tried doctors with little or no success, but you have not tried a specialist. Our methods are different from all others. We are treating chronic cases every day. We have a record of each case and know what were the ailments, and what remedies cured them. We manufacture all our medicines in our own laboratory and know the action or every ingredient we prescribe for you. It will not cost you one penny for a free consultation. For 32 years we have been coming to Janesville and have innumerable friends. My next visit will be on Tuesday, Sept. 14, where I can be seen at any time during the day at the Park Hotel, Laboratory, 200 S. 3rd St., Ft. Atkinson, Wis.

1908—WISCONSIN OFFICES—1908
Janesville, Wisconsin, Park Hotel, on Monday, Nov. 9.
Whitewater, Wisconsin, Hotel Walworth, Tuesday, Nov. 10.
Dodgeville, Wisconsin, Hotel Shorb, on Wednesday, Nov. 11.

READ THE WANT ADS

The Younger Set

By ROBERT W. CHAMBERS.
Author of "The Fighting Chance," Etc.

Copyright, 1907, by Robert W. Chambers

"That," she said faintly, "is the part I don't care for. Is he out of all path? What? Didn't feel any? Oh, are you quite sure?"

She walked over to him and looked down at the beautiful violet of craft. "Oh, well," she sighed, "you are very clever, of course, and I suppose I'll let him, but I wish he were alive again down there in those cool, sweet depths."

"Killing frogs and insects and his smaller brother fish?"

"Did he do that?"

"No doubt of it. And if I hadn't landed him a heron or a hawk would have done it sooner or later. That's what a trout is for—to kill and be killed."

"Do you say that it doesn't hurt the trout?" she asked.

"There are no nerves in the jaw muscles of a trout—fish," as his rod twitched and answered under water and his reel sang again.

And again she watched the performance and once more turned her back.

"Let me try," she said when the coup de grace had been administered to a lusty, brilliant tailed bull trout. And, rod in hand, she bent breathless and intent over the bushes, cautiously thrusting the tip through a thicket of mint.

She lost two fish, then hooked a third, a small one, but when she lifted it gasping into the sunlight she shivered and called to Selwyn:

"Unhook it and throw it back! I—I simply can't stand that!"

Splashed went the astonished trout, and she sighed her relief.

"There's no doubt about it," she said, "you and I certainly do belong to different species of the same genus. Men and women are separate species. Do you deny it?"

"I should hate to lose you that way," he returned laughingly.

"Well, you can't avoid it. I gladly admit that woman is not too closely related to man. We don't like to kill things. It's an ingrained distaste, not merely a matter of ethical philosophy. You like to kill, and it's a trait common also to children and other predatory animals, which fact," she added dryly, "convince me of woman's higher civilization."

"It would convince me, too," he said, "if woman didn't eat the things that man kills for her."

"I know. Isn't it horrid? Oh, dear, we're neither of us very high in the scale yet—particularly you."

"Well, I've advanced some since the good old days when a man went wooing with a club," he suggested.

"You may have, but, anyway, you don't go wooing. As for man collecting, he has not progressed so very far," she added demurely. "As an example that dreadful Draymore man actually hurt my wrist."

Selwyn looked up quickly, a shade of frank annoyance on his face and a vision of the fat sybil before his eyes. He turned again to his fishing, but his shrew was more of a slunder than appeared to be complimentary to Percy Draymore.

She had divined somehow that it annoyed Selwyn to know that men had importuned her. She had told him of her experience as innocently as she had told him, and with even less embarrassment. But that had been long ago, and now, without any specific reason, she was not certain that she had acted wisely, although it always amused her to see Selwyn's undisguised impatience whenever mention was made of such incidents.

So, to torment him, she said, "Of course it is somewhat exciting to be asked to marry people—rather agreeable than otherwise."

"What?"

Waist deep in bay bushes he turned toward her where she sat on the trunk of an oak which had fallen across the stream. Her arms balanced her body; her ankles were interlocked. She swung her slim, russet shod feet above the brook and looked at him with a touch of coquetry now, to her and to him.

"Of course it's amusing to be told you are the only woman in the world," she said, "particularly when a girl has a secret fear that men don't consider her quite grown up."

"You once said," he began impatiently, "that the little importunities of—"

"What?"

Waist deep in bay bushes he turned toward her where she sat on the trunk of an oak which had fallen across the stream. Her arms balanced her body; her ankles were interlocked. She swung her slim, russet shod feet above the brook and looked at him with a touch of coquetry now, to her and to him.

"Of course it's amusing to be told you are the only woman in the world," she said, "particularly when a girl has a secret fear that men don't consider her quite grown up."

"You once said," he began impatiently, "that the little importunities of—"

"What?"

Waist deep in bay bushes he turned toward her where she sat on the trunk of an oak which had fallen across the stream. Her arms balanced her body; her ankles were interlocked. She swung her slim, russet shod feet above the brook and looked at him with a touch of coquetry now, to her and to him.

"Of course it's amusing to be told you are the only woman in the world," she said, "particularly when a girl has a secret fear that men don't consider her quite grown up."

"You once said," he began impatiently, "that the little importunities of—"

"What?"

Waist deep in bay bushes he turned toward her where she sat on the trunk of an oak which had fallen across the stream. Her arms balanced her body; her ankles were interlocked. She swung her slim, russet shod feet above the brook and looked at him with a touch of coquetry now, to her and to him.

"Of course it's amusing to be told you are the only woman in the world," she said, "particularly when a girl has a secret fear that men don't consider her quite grown up."

"Why do you call them little?" with pretense of hurt surprise. "A girl is honored!"

"Oh, hush!"

"Captain Selwyn!"

"I beg your pardon," he said sulkily and fumbled with his reel.

She surveyed him, head a trifle on one side, the very incarnation of youthful malice in process of satisfying a desire for tormenting.

"When I pretended I was annoyed by what men said to me I was only a scolding," she observed. "Now I'm a—"

"He reeled in his line.

(two-year, Captain Selwyn. Who can tell what may happen in my second season?)

"You said that you were not the marrying sort," he insisted.

"Nonsense. All girls are. There are men," she said dreamily, "who might hope for a kinder reception next winter."

"Oh, no," he said coolly, "there are no such gentlemen. If there were you wouldn't say so."

"Yes, I would. And there are!"

"How many?" jeeringly and now quite reassured.

"One!"

"You can't frighten me," with a shuddering confidence. "You wouldn't tell if there was."

"I'll tell you."

"May?" with a sudden slump in his remaining stock of reassurance.

"Certainly. I tell you and Nina things of that sort. And when I have fully decided to marry I shall, of course, tell you both before I inform other people."

How the blood in her young veins was racing and singing with laughter! How thoroughly she was enjoying something to which she could give neither reason nor name! But how satisfying it all was—whatever it was that amused her in this man's uncertainty and in the faint traces of an irritation as unreasoning as the source of it!

"Really, Captain Selwyn," she said, "you are not one of those old-fashioned literary landmarks who object through several chapters to a girl's marrying, are you?"

"Yes," he said, "I am."

"You are quite serious?"

"Quite."

"You won't let me?"

"No; I won't."

"Why?"

"I want you myself," he said, smiling at last.

"That is flattering, but horribly selfish. In other words, you won't marry me and you won't let anybody else do it."

Glancing around at her, he caught her eyes, bright with mischief.

"You're capable of anything today," he said. "Were you considering the Percy Draymore?"

She had divined somehow that it annoyed Selwyn to know that men had importuned her. She had told him of her experience as innocently as she had told him, and with even less embarrassment. But that had been long ago, and now, without any specific reason, she was not certain that she had acted wisely, although it always amused her to see Selwyn's undisguised impatience whenever mention was made of such incidents.

So, to torment him, she said, "Of course it is somewhat exciting to be asked to marry people—rather agreeable than otherwise."

"What?"

Waist deep in bay bushes he turned toward her where she sat on the trunk of an oak which had fallen across the stream. Her arms balanced her body; her ankles were interlocked. She swung her slim, russet shod feet above the brook and looked at him with a touch of coquetry now, to her and to him.

"Of course it's amusing to be told you are the only woman in the world," she said, "particularly when a girl has a secret fear that men don't consider her quite grown up."

"You once said," he began impatiently, "that the little importunities of—"

"What?"

Waist deep in bay bushes he turned toward her where she sat on the trunk of an oak which had fallen across the stream. Her arms balanced her body; her ankles were interlocked. She swung her slim, russet shod feet above the brook and looked at him with a touch of coquetry now, to her and to him.

"Of course it's amusing to be told you are the only woman in the world," she said, "particularly when a girl has a secret fear that men don't consider her quite grown up."

couldn't get it out of it," he said. "And to become imbecile," he said, "I've only to shoo it."

She threw back her head and her clear laughter thrilled the silence. He laughed, too, and sat with elbows on his thighs, dabbling the chilled leader to and fro in the pool below.

"So you won't have me?" he said. "You haven't asked me—have you?"

"Well, I do now."

She smiled, the smile resting lightly on lips and eyes.

"Wouldn't such a thing astonish Nina?" she said.

He did not answer. A slight color tinged the new burn on his cheeks. She laughed to herself, clasped her hands, crossed her slender feet and bent her eyes on the pool below.

"Marriage," she said, pursuing her thoughts aloud, "is curiously unnecessary to happiness. Take our pleasure in each other, for example. It has from the beginning been perfectly free from silliness and sentiment."

"Naturally," he said. "I'm old enough to be safe."

"You are not," she retorted. "What a ridiculous thing to say!"

"Well, then," he said, "I'm dreadfully unsafe, but yet you've managed to escape. Is that it?"

"Perhaps. You are attractive to women! I've heard that often enough to be convinced. Why, even I can see what attracts them!"—she turned to look at him—"the way your head and shoulders set—and—well, the rest. It's rather superior of me to have escaped sentiment, don't you think so?"

"Indeed I do. Few—few escape where many meet to worship at my frisky feet, and this I say without conceit is due to my mustaches. Tangled in those like webbed flies, imprisoned hours complain in sighs—in fact, the situation view with moments in Doccia-cio."

Her running comment was her laughter, ringing deliciously until the trees until a wild bird, restlessly attentive, ventured a long, sweet response from the tangled green above them.

After their laughter the soberness of reaction left them silent for awhile. The wild bird sang and sang, dropping fearlessly nearer from branch to branch until in his melody she found the key to her dreamy thoughts.

"Because," she said, "you are so unconscious of your own value I like you best, I think. I never before quite realized just what it was in you."

"My value," he said, "is what you care to make it."

"Then nobody can afford to take you away from me, Captain Selwyn."

He flushed with pleasure. "That is the prettiest thing a woman ever admitted to a man," he said.

"What more is there than our confidence in each other and our content?" she said.

And, as he did not respond: "I wonder if you realize how perfectly lovely you have been to me since you have come into my life. Do you? Do you remember the first day—the very first—how I sent word to you that I wished you to see my first real dinner party?"

Smile if you wish—ah, but you don't! You don't understand, my poor friend, how much you became to me in that little interval! Men's kindness is a strange thing. They may try and try, and a girl may know they are trying, and in her turn, try to be grateful, but it is all effort on both sides. Then, with a word, an impulse born of chance or instinct, a man may say and do that which a woman can never forget and would not if she could."

"Have I done that?"

To be continued.

To be continued.

To be continued.

To be continued.

To be continued.

To be continued.

To be continued.

To be continued.

To be continued.

To be continued.

To be continued.

To be continued.

To be continued.

To be continued.

To be continued.

To be continued.

To be continued.

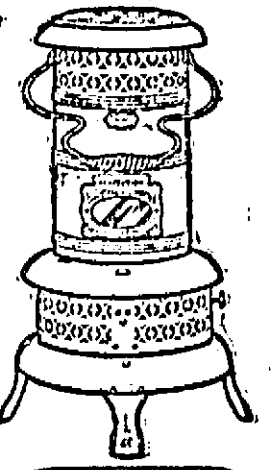

To be continued.

To be continued.

To be continued.

To be continued.

Don't Shiver

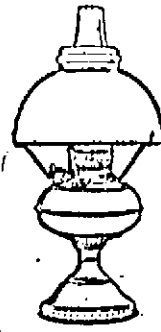

Just scratch a match—light the Perfection Oil Heater—and stop shivering. Wherever you have a room that's hard to heat—that the furnace doesn't reach—there you'll need a

PERFECTION Oil Heater

(Equipped with Smokeless Device)

Just the thing for blizzard time or between seasons. Its genial glowing heat makes any room cheerful and cozy. No smoke—no smell—smokeless device prevents. Brass font holds 4 quarts of oil burning 9 hours. Finished in Japan and nickel. Every heater warranted.

The Rayo Lamp Gives a restful, steady, soft light which is so much appreciated by workers and students. Made of brass, nickel plated with the latest improved central draft burner. Every lamp warranted. Write our nearest agency for descriptive circular if your dealer cannot supply the Perfection Oil Heater or Rayo Lamp.

Standard Oil Company (Incorporated)

Greatest Nerve and Blood Tonic
No. 2. M. I. S. T. No. 2.

I have given personal inspection to the working of M. I. S. T. on the human system, and must say that it entirely meets with my professional sanction.

D. L. LOOMIS, Late Demonstrator of Anatomy, Philadelphia Medical College.

We Guarantee M. I. S. T. No. 2 will Cure or We Will Refund Your Money

RHEUMATISM, no matter how long standing. Any case of inflammation of the bladder or enlarged prostate gland, no matter if the patient has been forced to use a catheter. BRUISES, POISON, IN ANY STAGE. ANY CASE OF DIABETES. ANY CASE OF STRICTURE without local treatment. In addition to the above M. I. S. T. No. 2 has cured many cases of Paralysis, Locomotor Ataxia, Neural Trouble and apparently incurable diseases of the nerves and has removed from the system cancerous growths. M. I. S. T. has been on the market for over 20 years, and has cured thousands of sufferers. It is prescribed by leading physicians all over the country. It is pleasant to take and above all, it is safe. It never increases or diminishes the action of the heart. If you are suffering from any chronic disease you are urged to write to us, no matter how many doctors or kinds of medicines you have tried without relief. WE GUARANTEE TO CURE YOU or refund your money. That you may judge of the value of this Great Remedy for yourself, we will send you our week's treatment by mail FREE, only asking that when cured yourself you will recommend it to others. Write confidentially to our medical department, giving symptoms. $1 per box, or six boxes for $5.

Address M. I. S. T. Co., Toledo, O.
HEIMSTREET'S DRUG STORE.

Will Sell Old Fire Engine.

The authorities in the village of Holywell, Flintshire, England, have decided to sell an old fire engine which they possess. It is probably the oldest fire engine in the kingdom.

Wealth and Dishonesty.

If dishonesty always brought riches fewer candidates would consider it worth while to bid for the votes of the plain people.

STATE OF WISCONSIN—County Court for Lincoln County—in Probate.

Notice is hereby given that at a special term of the county court to be held in and for said county at the court house in the city of Janesville, in said county, on the third Thursday, being the second day of November, 1908, at nine o'clock a. m., the following matter will be heard and considered:

The application of Wilhelm Gustafson for the appointment and allowance of his account as administrator of the estate of Joachim Gustafson, late of the town of La Prairie, in said county, deceased, and for the assignment of the residue of said estate, in such other persons as are by law entitled thereto, dated October 14th, 1908.

By the Court,
Stanley D. Tullman,
Attorney for Administrator administrator.

HANDY TIME TABLE.

Chicago via Clinton—C. & N. W. Ry.—4:20, 4:30, 4:45, 6:00, 8:00, 9:10, 10:10, 11:20, 12:30, 1:40, 2:50, 4:00, 5:10, 6:20, 7:30, 8:40, 9:50, 11:00, 12:10, 1:20, 2:30, 3:40, 4:50, 6:00, 7:10, 8:20, 9:30, 10:40, 11:50, 12:00, 1:10, 2:20, 3:30, 4:40, 5:50, 7:00, 8:10, 9:20, 10:30, 11:40, 12:50, 1:00, 2:10, 3:20, 4:30, 5:40, 6:50, 8:00, 9:10, 10:20, 11:30, 12:40, 1:50, 3:00, 4:10, 5:20, 6:30, 7:40, 8:50, 10:00, 11:10, 12:20, 1:30, 2:40, 3:50, 5:00, 6:10, 7:20, 8:30, 9:40, 10:50, 12:00, 1:10, 2:20, 3:30, 4:40, 5:50, 7:00, 8:10, 9:20, 10:30, 11:40, 12:50, 1:00, 2:10, 3:20, 4:30, 5:40, 6:50, 8:00, 9:10, 10:20, 11:30, 12:40, 1:50, 3:00, 4:10, 5:20, 6:30, 7:40, 8:50, 10:00, 11:10, 12:20, 1:30, 2:40, 3:50, 5:00, 6:10, 7:20, 8:30, 9:40, 10:50, 12:00, 1:10, 2:20, 3:30, 4:40, 5:50, 7:00, 8:10, 9:20, 10:30, 11:40, 12:50, 1:00, 2:10, 3:20, 4:30, 5:40, 6:50, 8:00, 9:10, 10:20, 11:30, 12:40, 1:50, 3:00, 4:10, 5:20, 6:30, 7:40, 8:50, 10:00, 11:10, 12:20, 1:30, 2:40, 3:50, 5:00, 6:10, 7:20, 8:30, 9:40, 10:50, 12:00, 1:10, 2:20, 3:30, 4:40, 5:50, 7:00, 8:10, 9:20, 10:30, 11:40, 12:50, 1:00, 2:10, 3:20, 4:30, 5:40, 6:50, 8:00, 9:10, 10:20, 11:30, 12:40, 1:50, 3:00, 4:10, 5:20, 6:30, 7:40, 8:50, 10:00, 11:10, 12:20, 1:30, 2:40, 3:50, 5:00, 6:10, 7:20, 8:30, 9:40, 10:50, 12:00, 1:10, 2:20, 3:30, 4:40, 5:50, 7:00, 8:10, 9:20, 10:30, 11:40, 12:50, 1:00, 2:10, 3:20, 4:30, 5:40, 6:50, 8:00, 9:10, 10:20, 11:30, 12:40, 1:50, 3:00, 4:10, 5:20, 6:30, 7:40, 8:50, 10:00, 11:10, 12:20, 1:30, 2:40, 3:50, 5:00, 6:10, 7:20, 8:30, 9:40, 10:50, 12:00, 1:10, 2:20, 3:30, 4:40, 5:50, 7:00, 8:10, 9:20, 10:30, 11:40, 12

